No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Subject: Pass Agenda Item 12 on Tues. 7/12 to keep the sheriff accountable

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

Greg Marquez

We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

Subject: SUPPORT - Charter Amendment for Sheriff Accountability

Dear Supervisors,

I am a resident of the 3rd Supervisorial District, and I am writing in strong support of your motion (agenda item no. 12) to place on the ballot a charter amendment for common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff. Our current sheriff is Exhibit A for why this accountability is needed. The LASD remains a symbol of corruption and abuse, and we must have tools available for situations like this, when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. Establishing checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

I urge you to please approve for the November ballot an amendment to our county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

Thank you,

Subject: Pass Agenda Item 12 on Tues. 7/12 to keep the sheriff accountable

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

Alexandra Hopkins

We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Subject: Pass Agenda Item 12 on Tues. 7/12 to keep the sheriff accountable

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

Gregory Smith

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. Subject: Pass Agenda Item 12 on Tues. 7/12 to keep the sheriff accountable

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

Andrew Reich

Members of the Board of Supervisors,

My name is Alexis Cavish and I am a resident and constituent of Supervisorial District 1.

Please pass Item 12 during your July 12 meeting and give the voters the ability to amend our county charter this November. Our Sheriff department is out of control. We need this important check on the power of that office.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I support the Board of Supervisors (Board) motion (agenda item no. 12) to bring about a charter amendment for common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff. I urge the Board to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,
Alexis Cavish

Members of the Board of Supervisors,

My name is Ingrid Chang, and I am a family member of a resident and constituent of LA County District 1.

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, I write to urge you to pass Item 12 during your July 12 meeting and propose to the voters a county charter amendment that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I support the Board of Supervisors (Board) motion (agenda item no. 12) to bring about a charter amendment for common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff. I urge the Board to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,
Ingrid Chang

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear BOS,

You're recent attempt to take away the power from voters to select the LA County Sheriff is nothing short of outrageous. It's an obvious political power-grab. Given the Board's epic history of failure, you are the least qualified to make such decisions.

The current Board is pro-crime, pro-criminal, pro-homeless, pro-lockdown and has mismanaged every issue put before it. You support the very dangerous George Gason but want to remove the ONLY official willing to enforce the law.

I find your actions irresponsible and moronic.

Get your hands off our sheriff! We elected him and we will keep him if we want.

You have other things to do, like clean up downtown or reduce government waste. In fact, that would be the best use of your power. Treat the resources you supervise as ours and see that your choices reflect our values

Rather than trying a power play to oust the Sheriff, I suggest you concentrate on doing your own jobs. I hold him up as the only one there that has a clue on how to actually address homelessness and public safety. Riding the Metro recently, I saw the deputies and not the usual drunk/drugged-out sleepers on the train and at the stations and whispered a silent thank you to Alex. Angelenos deserve their parks, their sidewalks, and their safety. Wake up!

Honorable Members of the Board of Supervisors:

Disability Rights California (DRC) is the state's protection and advocacy system, charged under state and federal law with advancing the rights of people with disabilities. DRC strongly supports Supervisors Mitchell and Solis's Motion to Promote Accountability and Community Safety through Checks and Balances of the Los Angeles County Sheriff.

The Los Angeles County Sheriff's actions bear on people with disabilities in multiple contexts: from deputy encounters in the field to the treatment of individuals held in custody. Given the potential for violence and excessive use of force perpetrated by deputies, a Sheriff who exercises effective leadership and submits to transparent review of their department is essential to prevent abuse. Unfortunately, this type of leadership has been lacking in LA County, as demonstrated by countless substantiated incidents of violence perpetrated against civilians-many of them disabled- in the jails and in the community. These incidents prompted the Board to form the Citizens' Commission on Jail Violence, the Office of the Inspector General, and the Sheriff Civilian Oversight

Commission. Despite these measures, the current Sheriff has chosen to flout and ignore these oversight mechanisms, with no available recourse by the Board.

Disability Rights California joins multiple community and labor organizations in urging you to pass Supervisors Mitchell and Solis's motion directing the Board to refer to the voters a charter amendment allowing removal of the sheriff if certain stringent conditions are met. LA County voters deserve the opportunity to decide how they want County government to operate.

We thank you for your continued leadership.

Sincerely,

We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I support the Board of Supervisors (Board) motion (agenda item no. 12) to bring about a charter amendment for common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff. I urge the Board to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,
Gregory Irwin

Members of the Board of Supervisors,

My name is Catherine Mayer and I am a resident and constituent of SD 2.

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, I write to urge you to pass Item 12 during your July 12 meeting and propose to the voters a county charter amendment that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I support the Board of Supervisors (Board) motion (agenda item no. 12) to bring about a charter amendment for common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff. I urge the Board to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

July 11th, 2022

Dear Members of the Board of Supervisors,

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, and many of your constituents, I urge you to pass Item 12 on Tuesday, July 12 and propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the Board of Supervisors to pass Item 12. The Board should refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022, election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Members of the Board of Supervisors,

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, and many of your constituents, I urge you to pass Item 12 on Tuesday, July 12 and propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

Michiel Thomas

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

I am writing to urge you to pass this agenda item! I want to express my support and urge you do the same. The Sheriff, Alejandro 'Alex' Villanueva has not cooperated with the Los Angeles County Civilian Oversight Committee (LAC CoC). I have written public comment numerous times about this issue. I have watched testimony and read the news about the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department (LASD).

Law Enforcement is NO place for street like gangs! Law Enforcement is supposed to an Anti-Gang Government Organization cracking down on thugs and street gangs, NOT engage in gang-membership!

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Honorable Members of the Board of Supervisors:

Disability Rights California (DRC) is the state's protection and advocacy system, charged under state and federal law with advancing the rights of people with disabilities. DRC strongly supports Supervisors Mitchell and Solis's Motion to Promote Accountability and Community Safety through Checks and Balances of the Los Angeles County Sheriff.

The Los Angeles County Sheriff's actions bear on people with disabilities in multiple contexts: from deputy encounters in the field to the treatment of individuals held in custody. Given the potential for violence and excessive use of force perpetrated by deputies, a Sheriff who exercises effective leadership and submits to transparent review of their department is essential to prevent abuse. Unfortunately, this type of leadership has been lacking in LA County, as demonstrated by countless substantiated incidents of violence perpetrated against civilians-many of them disabled- in the jails and in the community. These incidents prompted the Board to form the Citizens' Commission on Jail Violence, the Office of the Inspector General, and the Sheriff Civilian Oversight

Commission. Despite these measures, the current Sheriff has chosen to flout and ignore these oversight mechanisms, with no available recourse by the Board.

Disability Rights California joins multiple community and labor organizations in urging you to pass Supervisors Mitchell and Solis's motion directing the Board to refer to the voters a charter amendment allowing removal of the sheriff if certain stringent conditions are met. LA County voters deserve the opportunity to decide how they want County government to operate.

We thank you for your continued leadership.

Sincerely,

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. Members of the Board of Supervisors,

My name is Melanie Havelin, and I am a resident and constituent of Supervisorial district #3.

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, I write to urge you to pass item 12 during your July 12th meeting and propose to the voters a county charter amendment that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I support the Board of Supervisors (Board) motion (agenda item no. 12) to bring about a charter amendment for common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff. I urge the Board to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's

Dear Supervisors,

Please see the attached letter from the Co-Presidents of UNITE HERE Local 11. We are glad to see the Charter Amendment to create checks and balances for the Sheriff on tomorrow's agenda. We support the Board in bringing this urgently needed accountability to the Sheriff.

Sincerely,
Nick Gerber
Lead Organizer
UNITE HERE Local 11

July 11, 2022

Dear Supervisors,

We write to you today as the three Co-Presidents of UNITE HERE Local 11. We are a labor union representing 32,000 members in the hospitality and tourism industries, comprising workers from many immigrant communities and who are overwhelmingly Black, Latinx, or Asian American.

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, UNITE HERE Local 11 urges you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the Sheriff.

On June 18, 2020, Sheriff's deputies shot Andres Guardado five times in the back, killing him, while he was working at his part time job as a security guard in Gardena. Andres had gotten the job to help provide for his family after his father, Cristobal, a UNITE HERE Local 11 member and cook at the LA Grand Downtown Hotel, was laid off due to COVID-19.

In our attempts to get justice for the Guardado family, we have subsequently seen LASD officials refuse to cooperate with an independent investigation, stonewalling the Inspector General. The deputy who shot Andres and two other LASD detectives involved refused to testify in the coroner's inquest into Andres' killing, the first of its kind in 30 years, stating they would invoke the Fifth Amendment. Sheriff Villanueva himself consistently refuses to appear at Civilian Oversight Commission meetings, even when lawfully subpoenaed to do so by the Commission.

We commend the Board for voting twice, in June and September of 2020, to call for an independent investigation into Andres' killing. However, in the two years since that tragic day, we have learned that the existing mechanisms to bring long overdue and urgently needed accountability to the Sheriff's Department are simply too weak. As leaders in the labor movement, we know that an injury to one is an injury to all. The Sheriff's Department has never demonstrated a commitment to this basic principle of justice.

This measure creates common sense checks and balances. The Board of Supervisors needs the ability to remove a Sheriff that endangers the lives of the voters they are elected to serve. Just like Congress can impeach a President, the Board of Supervisors should have the power to protect us by removing a Sheriff when necessary.

No Sheriff is above the law and we are committed to making this so in LA County, for all of our members and the Guardado family especially. Therefore, UNITE HERE Local 11 urges the Board of Supervisors (Board) to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 election a charter amendment that will allow the Board to remove the sheriff for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

To the supervisors,

My name is Elizabeth Sommer and I live in district 3.

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, I write to urge you to pass Item 12 during your July 12 meeting and propose to the voters a county charter amendment that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have emerged in Black and brown communities and terrorized community members.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department. Therefore, I urge the Board of Supervisors (Board) to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 election a charter amendment that will allow the Board to remove the sheriff for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

Gizella Czene (she, ella)

Dear BOS,

I was shocked to read that you are considering putting on the ballot an initiative to allow you to fire our duly elected Sheriff.

This must be unconstitutional but definitely shows NO respect for your constituents or due process.

Shame on you,

Dear Members of the Board of Supervisors,

The National Lawyers Guild (NLG) was founded in 1937 as the country's first racially-integrated bar association of progressive lawyers and jurists who believed that they had a major role to play in the reconstruction of legal values to emphasize human rights over property rights. The Guild is the oldest and most extensive network of public interest and human rights activists working within the legal system.

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, NLG-LA urges you to pass Item 12 on Tuesday, July 12 and propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

Dear L.A. County Supervisors,

voters a charter amendment for common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff. Since we delivered our coalition letter on June 17, after honoring Andres Guardado's second Angelversary, additional community and labor organizations have joined; these include Homeboy Industries, Alexandria House, SEIU 2015, UFCW 770, and NUHW. Creating checks and balances on the paramilitary office of the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential civilian oversight.

Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Subject: L.A. County Charter Amendment for Sheriff Accountability

Dear L.A. County Supervisors,

From L.A. County Sheriff Alex Villanueva's repeated violations of the law and obstruction of oversight and his secret police unit's politically-motivated investigations intended to intimidate and harass oversight officials to the unchecked scourge of deputy gang violence that he has enabled and the dramatic increase in deputy shootings and record-level deaths in the jails under his watch, we have reached a crisis point yet again with the L.A. County Sheriff's Department (LASD).

Today, on behalf of families directly impacted by LASD violence and a growing coalition of more than 100 community and labor organizations, we submit the enclosed letter urging the L.A. County Board of Supervisors (Board) to propose to the voters for the November 2022 general election a common-sense amendment to the L.A. County Charter that will strengthen civilian oversight and create meaningful checks and balances of the sheriff's office and LASD.

As you know, on May 19, the Sheriff's Civilian Oversight Commission passed a resolution in support of our charter amendment proposal (please see attached and also linked here). In addition, on April 15, constitutional law expert and dean of U.C. Berkeley School of Law Erwin Chemerinsky and former federal prosecutor and executive director of the Citizens' Commission on Jail Violence Miriam Krinsky published an op-ed in the L.A. Times elevating our coalition's charter amendment proposal. The op-ed followed a scathing report released more than two months ago by L.A. County Jails monitors that revealed ongoing abuse under Villanueva's watch; it also expanded on a letter to the editor in the L.A. Times by NAACP San Fernando Valley Chapter President Rev. James Thomas.

No matter who the sheriff is, whether Villanueva or any future sheriff, we must act now and create greater mechanisms to rein in any sheriff who abuses power.

To: Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors

Re: L.A. County Charter Amendment for Accountability, Oversight, and Checks and Balances of the Sheriff and the Sheriff’s Department

Yet again, Los Angeles County has reached a crisis point with its sheriff and Sheriff’s Department (LASD). The most recent spate of deputy gang violence has thrown a spotlight on this crisis that has gone unchecked for decades and demands an immediate and proportionate response by the Board of Supervisors (Board). Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff’s administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. Among them, Sheriff Baca oversaw rampant and extreme violence in the jails—much of it perpetuated by deputy gangs—and now sits in federal prison for obstructing civil rights intervention; current Sheriff Villanueva has gone from denying the existence of deputy gangs to claiming that they are harmless fraternities, all the while defying subpoenas and violating laws on transparency and oversight. Villanueva’s disinterest in stemming deputy violence, including deputy gangs, is the most recent illustration of how existing County structures are insufficient to guard against sheriffs who are hostile to civilian oversight, transparency, and accountability.

The Board must seize this moment and take decisive actions to protect the public from the scourge of deputy gangs, sheriffs’ violations of the law and obstruction of oversight, and the underlying conditions leading to unchecked deputy misconduct and violence particularly towards Black and brown communities policed by LASD. The undersigned stakeholders urge the Board to propose to the voters an amendment to the L.A. County Charter that will create an impeachment and removal process to provide common sense checks and balances over the sheriff, reinforce its policy-making authority over LASD, and strengthen civilian oversight.

1. Create a procedure to allow impeachment and removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, including serious crimes, unconstitutional conduct, and abuse of power.¹ While the Board has a duty to supervise the conduct of the sheriff under state and local laws, and it bears the ultimate responsibility for the safety of the public, the Board currently has no meaningful mechanism to enforce this authority, or even to take action against a sheriff who directly violates the law.² A “don’t elect me” system of sheriff accountability every four years has proven wholly inadequate.³ The threat of removal would finally provide the Board with a more direct means to protect the public from serious sheriff misconduct. The U.S. Congress has the duty and authority to impeach and remove an elected president when necessary; even more so should the civilian Board have the power to impeach and remove an elected sheriff, a paramilitary official akin to an elected general.⁴ Besides the limited circumstances for removal grounds, to further guard against concerns that this removal authority places too much power in the Board, the procedure should direct the Civilian Oversight Commission (COC) to create a list from which the Board may select an interim replacement in the event of a sheriff’s removal.

2. Reinforce the Board’s authority to create policies for LASD and delegate initial policy development to the COC. The Board has the duty under state law to supervise its sheriffs “in order to ensure that they faithfully perform their duties,”⁵ and local law recognizes that this responsibility includes the authority to direct and approve the development of policy for LASD.⁶ Yet, the Board has rarely exercised this authority and, as a result, sheriffs have adopted and maintained policies that directly contravene the letter and spirit of various local, state, and federal laws.⁷ The proposed L.A. County Charter amendment should further codify the authority of the Board to oversee and set policies for LASD that do not interfere with the statutory authority of the sheriff or otherwise conflict with state law. Moreover, the proposal should include a process for the COC—the civilian body established to “improve transparency and accountability with respect to [LASD]”⁸—to develop and propose policies for the Board’s consideration and action.
3. Establish permanent, independent, and more robust civilian oversight of LASD. To make sure that future Boards less committed to civilian oversight cannot undermine the existing oversight bodies, the proposed measure should explicitly incorporate the COC and the Office of Inspector General into the L.A. County Charter, including their ability to subpoena records and testimony as needed to fulfill their functions.⁹ The proposal should provide the COC with independent counsel and funding commensurate with its duties, and ensure membership of community members directly impacted by LASD and the criminal legal system.

Sincerely,

LA County Board of Supervisors

Dear Members of the Board of Supervisors,

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, Reform L.A. Jails urges you to pass the Mitchell/Solis motion, Promoting Accountability and Community Safety Through Checks and Balances of the Los Angeles County Sheriff, Item 12 on Tuesday, July 12th to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the LA Sheriff.

Reform L.A. Jails (RLJ) represents a coalition of Los Angeles residents, community leaders, businesses, and organizations fighting to permanently reduce the population of people cycling in and out of jail. RLJ envisions a future where LA has divested from incarceration and invested in community-based services. A future that doesn't criminalize Black, Brown, Indigenous, or poor people, and where communities have the power and resources they need to keep themselves safe, heal, and thrive for generations to come.

RLJ's founding by Black Lives Matter co-founder Patrisse Cullors in 2018 grew out of the years of violence, torture and abuse that her brother received at the hands of LA County sheriff deputies, while he suffered ongoing severe mental health crises. In March 2020 when 73% of the voters passed RLJ's Measure R (the LA Sheriff Oversight and Accountability Ballot Measure), which gave the Sheriff Civilian Oversight Commission subpoena power and other accountability tools, we thought Sheriff oversight finally had the teeth it needed to bring about the reforms Angelenos have been calling for for decades. But instead Sheriff Villanueva has fought every subpoena order, refused to attend Oversight Meetings, harassed family members of murder victims, launched counter-investigations into those charged with overseeing him, and let the deputy gangs run rampant.

In 2021, in response to Sheriff Alex Villanueva's continuous misconduct, Reform L.A. Jails submitted a complaint with the Los Angeles Civil Grand Jury, calling for the Sheriff's removal under CA Government Code Section 3060, for willful and corrupt misconduct in office. Under the Complaint Sheriff Villanueva is accused of repeatedly breaking federal, state and municipal law, violating over a dozen state penal and civil codes, along with both U.S. and CA constitutional amendments. RLJ's Civil Grand Jury Complaint built on the collective work of the movement and the many other legal actions that have been filed to stop this dangerous Sheriff, but unfortunately the Civil Grand Jury declined to advance the case to the District Attorney for prosecution.

Despite the significant steps the Board has taken to create a system of accountability and transparency for the Sheriff's Department, and despite the many legal actions families and community groups have initiated, the behavior and actions of the LA Sheriff and the entire Department have only gotten worse over time. The time for the Board to act is now. An amendment to the LA County Charter allowing for the Sheriff's removal is desperately needed as the last resort to hold the Sheriff accountable where nothing else has worked. As is stated in the motion, "Lack of accountability has been an enduring feature of County sheriffs."

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability have been far, few, and ineffective.

We need a Charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, one that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating impactful checks and balances on the Sheriff's Department has been long overdue, and changes to our County Charter can ensure essential oversight of the Sheriff. Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the Sheriff's Department.

Therefore, Reform L.A. Jails urges the Board of Supervisors to pass Item 12, and refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Reform L.A. Jails Team

Subject: On Tues, 7/12, pass Item 12 to bring about a charter amendment for sheriff accountability

Members of the Board of Supervisors,

I am a resident and constituent of Supervisorial District #1.

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, I write to urge you to pass Item 12 during your July 12 meeting and propose to the voters a county charter amendment that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I support the Board of Supervisors (Board) motion (agenda item no. 12) to bring about a charter amendment for common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff. I urge the Board to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

I have followed closely via testimonials and news reports the labyrinth of obstacles private citizens, attorneys, public servants and lawmakers encounter when they try to hold the Sheriffs and many of their deputies accountable for everything from lying and cheating, to joyriding, bullying, and murder. Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Pass Agenda Item 12 on Tues. 7/12 to keep the FUTURE sheriffs accountable. Because of the timing, this will likely not affect the current sheriff, unless he is re-elected. This ballot measure will establish a better perspective & accountability for Sheriffs as team players in our county.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

Board of Supervisors,

My name is Shane Whitaker and I am a resident and constituent of supervisorial district #5.

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, I write to urge you to pass Item 12 during your July 12 meeting and propose to the voters a county charter amendment that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I support the Board of Supervisors (Board) motion (agenda item no. 12) to bring about a charter amendment for common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff. I urge the Board to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Members of the Board of Supervisors,

The National Lawyers Guild (NLG) was founded in 1937 as the country's first racially-integrated bar association of progressive lawyers and jurists who believed that they had a major role to play in the reconstruction of legal values to emphasize human rights over property rights. The Guild is the oldest and most extensive network of public interest and human rights activists working within the legal system.

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, NLG-LA urges you to pass Item 12 on Tuesday, July 12 and propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of violence, corruption, and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities. Deputies have aggressively and continuously harassed and intimidated family members of individuals the department has killed in response to them bravely calling for justice for their loved ones.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, the National Lawyers Guild of Los Angeles urges the Board of Supervisors (Board) to pass Item 12. The Board should refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Subject: RE: L.A. County Charter Amendment for Sheriff Accountability
Importance: High

Dear L.A. County Supervisors,

We write to resubmit our coalition letter urging the Board of Supervisors (Board) to refer to the voters a charter amendment for common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff. Since we delivered our coalition letter on June 17, after honoring Andres Guardado's second Angelversary, additional community and labor organizations have joined; these include Homeboy Industries, Alexandria House, SEIU 2015, UFCW 770, and NUHW. Please see our letter enclosed or linked here.

No matter what office, function, or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few. For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of violence, corruption, and impunity in the sheriff's department that has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the paramilitary office of the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential civilian oversight.

Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, we urge the Board to pass Item 12. The Board should refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 general election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust. The Board should also reinforce its policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Subject: L.A. County Charter Amendment for Sheriff Accountability

Dear L.A. County Supervisors,

From L.A. County Sheriff Alex Villanueva's repeated violations of the law and obstruction of oversight and his secret police unit's politically-motivated investigations intended to intimidate and harass oversight officials to the unchecked scourge of deputy gang violence that he has enabled and the dramatic increase in deputy shootings and record-level deaths in the jails under his watch, we have reached a crisis point yet again with the L.A. County Sheriff's Department (LASD).

Today, on behalf of families directly impacted by LASD violence and a growing coalition of more than 100 community and labor organizations, we submit the enclosed letter urging the L.A. County Board of Supervisors (Board) to propose to the voters for the November 2022 general election a common-sense amendment to the L.A. County Charter that will strengthen civilian oversight and create meaningful checks and balances of the sheriff's office and LASD.

As you know, on May 19, the Sheriff's Civilian Oversight Commission passed a resolution in support of our charter amendment proposal (please see attached and also linked here). In addition, on April 15, constitutional law expert and dean of U.C. Berkeley School of Law Erwin Chemerinsky and former federal prosecutor and executive director of the Citizens' Commission on Jail Violence Miriam Krinsky published an op-ed in the L.A. Times elevating our coalition's charter amendment proposal. The op-ed followed a scathing report released more than two months ago by L.A. County Jails monitors that revealed ongoing abuse under Villanueva's watch; it also expanded on a letter to the editor in the L.A. Times by NAACP San Fernando Valley Chapter President Rev. James Thomas.

No matter who the sheriff is, whether Villanueva or any future sheriff, we must act now and create greater mechanisms to rein in any sheriff who abuses power.

Sincerely,

Andrés Dae Keun Kwon ^{he/him/his}

To: Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors

Re: L.A. County Charter Amendment for Accountability, Oversight, and Checks and Balances of the Sheriff and the Sheriff’s Department

Yet again, Los Angeles County has reached a crisis point with its sheriff and Sheriff’s Department (LASD). The most recent spate of deputy gang violence has thrown a spotlight on this crisis that has gone unchecked for decades and demands an immediate and proportionate response by the Board of Supervisors (Board). Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff’s administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. Among them, Sheriff Baca oversaw rampant and extreme violence in the jails—much of it perpetuated by deputy gangs—and now sits in federal prison for obstructing civil rights intervention; current Sheriff Villanueva has gone from denying the existence of deputy gangs to claiming that they are harmless fraternities, all the while defying subpoenas and violating laws on transparency and oversight. Villanueva’s disinterest in stemming deputy violence, including deputy gangs, is the most recent illustration of how existing County structures are insufficient to guard against sheriffs who are hostile to civilian oversight, transparency, and accountability.

The Board must seize this moment and take decisive actions to protect the public from the scourge of deputy gangs, sheriffs’ violations of the law and obstruction of oversight, and the underlying conditions leading to unchecked deputy misconduct and violence particularly towards Black and brown communities policed by LASD. The undersigned stakeholders urge the Board to propose to the voters an amendment to the L.A. County Charter that will create an impeachment and removal process to provide common sense checks and balances over the sheriff, reinforce its policy-making authority over LASD, and strengthen civilian oversight.

- 1. Create a procedure to allow impeachment and removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, including serious crimes, unconstitutional conduct, and abuse of power.¹ While the Board has a duty to supervise the conduct of the sheriff under state and local laws, and it bears the ultimate responsibility for the safety of the public, the Board currently has no meaningful mechanism to enforce this authority, or even to take action against a sheriff who directly violates the law.² A “don’t elect me” system of sheriff accountability every four years has proven wholly inadequate.³ The threat of removal would finally provide the Board with a more direct means to protect the public from serious sheriff misconduct. The U.S. Congress has the duty and authority to impeach and remove an elected president when necessary; even more so should the civilian Board have the power to impeach and remove an elected sheriff, a paramilitary official akin to an elected general.⁴ Besides the limited circumstances for removal grounds, to further guard against concerns that this removal authority places too much power in the Board, the procedure should direct the Civilian Oversight Commission (COC) to create a list from which the Board may select an interim replacement in the event of a sheriff’s removal.

2. Reinforce the Board’s authority to create policies for LASD and delegate initial policy development to the COC. The Board has the duty under state law to supervise its sheriffs “in order to ensure that they faithfully perform their duties,”⁵ and local law recognizes that this responsibility includes the authority to direct and approve the development of policy for LASD.⁶ Yet, the Board has rarely exercised this authority and, as a result, sheriffs have adopted and maintained policies that directly contravene the letter and spirit of various local, state, and federal laws.⁷ The proposed L.A. County Charter amendment should further codify the authority of the Board to oversee and set policies for LASD that do not interfere with the statutory authority of the sheriff or otherwise conflict with state law. Moreover, the proposal should include a process for the COC—the civilian body established to “improve transparency and accountability with respect to [LASD]”⁸—to develop and propose policies for the Board’s consideration and action.
3. Establish permanent, independent, and more robust civilian oversight of LASD. To make sure that future Boards less committed to civilian oversight cannot undermine the existing oversight bodies, the proposed measure should explicitly incorporate the COC and the Office of Inspector General into the L.A. County Charter, including their ability to subpoena records and testimony as needed to fulfill their functions.⁹ The proposal should provide the COC with independent counsel and funding commensurate with its duties, and ensure membership of community members directly impacted by LASD and the criminal legal system.

Sincerely,

LA County Board of Supervisors

Dear Members of the Board of Supervisors,

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, Reform L.A. Jails urges you to pass the Mitchell/Solis motion, Promoting Accountability and Community Safety Through Checks and Balances of the Los Angeles County Sheriff, Item 12 on Tuesday, July 12th to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the LA Sheriff.

Reform L.A. Jails (RLJ) represents a coalition of Los Angeles residents, community leaders, businesses, and organizations fighting to permanently reduce the population of people cycling in and out of jail. RLJ envisions a future where LA has divested from incarceration and invested in community-based services. A future that doesn't criminalize Black, Brown, Indigenous, or poor people, and where communities have the power and resources they need to keep themselves safe, heal, and thrive for generations to come.

RLJ's founding by Black Lives Matter co-founder Patrisse Cullors in 2018 grew out of the years of violence, torture and abuse that her brother received at the hands of LA County sheriff deputies, while he suffered ongoing severe mental health crises. In March 2020 when 73% of the voters passed RLJ's Measure R (the LA Sheriff Oversight and Accountability Ballot Measure), which gave the Sheriff Civilian Oversight Commission subpoena power and other accountability tools, we thought Sheriff oversight finally had the teeth it needed to bring about the reforms Angelenos have been calling for for decades. But instead Sheriff Villanueva has fought every subpoena order, refused to attend Oversight Meetings, harassed family members of murder victims, launched counter-investigations into those charged with overseeing him, and let the deputy gangs run rampant.

In 2021, in response to Sheriff Alex Villanueva's continuous misconduct, Reform L.A. Jails submitted a complaint with the Los Angeles Civil Grand Jury, calling for the Sheriff's removal under CA Government Code Section 3060, for willful and corrupt misconduct in office. Under the Complaint Sheriff Villanueva is accused of repeatedly breaking federal, state and municipal law, violating over a dozen state penal and civil codes, along with both U.S. and CA constitutional amendments. RLJ's Civil Grand Jury Complaint built on the collective work of the movement and the many other legal actions that have been filed to stop this dangerous Sheriff, but unfortunately the Civil Grand Jury declined to advance the case to the District Attorney for prosecution.

Despite the significant steps the Board has taken to create a system of accountability and transparency for the Sheriff's Department, and despite the many legal actions families and community groups have initiated, the behavior and actions of the LA Sheriff and the entire Department have only gotten worse over time. The time for the Board to act is now. An amendment to the LA County Charter allowing for the Sheriff's removal is desperately needed as the last resort to hold the Sheriff accountable where nothing else has worked. As is stated in the motion, "Lack of accountability has been an enduring feature of County sheriffs."

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability have been far, few, and ineffective.

We need a Charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, one that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating impactful checks and balances on the Sheriff's Department has been long overdue, and changes to our County Charter can ensure essential oversight of the Sheriff. Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the Sheriff's Department.

Therefore, Reform L.A. Jails urges the Board of Supervisors to pass Item 12, and refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

If you would like more information or to discuss this further, please reach out to us through Ben Stolz at Ben@bowersconsulting.com.

Sincerely,

Reform L.A. Jails Team

Members of the Board of Supervisors,

My name is Courtney Khademi and I am a resident and constituent of District Three.

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, I write to urge you to pass Item 12 during your July 12 meeting and propose to the voters a county charter amendment that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Subject: On Tuesday, July 12, pass Item 12 to bring about a charter amendment for sheriff accountability

Members of the Board of Supervisors,

My name is Courtney Khademi and I am a resident and constituent of District Three.

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, I write to urge you to pass Item 12 during your July 12 meeting and propose to the voters a county charter amendment that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I support the Board of Supervisors (Board) motion (agenda item no. 12) to bring about a charter amendment for common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff. I urge the Board to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Subject: Pass Agenda Item 12 on Tues. 7/12 to keep the sheriff accountable

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

Linda OBrien

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

Subject: Pass an amendment to county charter to require accountability of the sheriff

Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors
Los Angeles, CA

July 11, 2022

Dear Members of the Board of Supervisors,

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, the ACLU SoCal-Pasadena/Foothills Chapter urges you to pass Item 12 on Tuesday, July 12 and propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, the ACLU SoCal-Pasadena/Foothills Chapter urges the Board of Supervisors (Board) to pass Item 12. The Board should refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

To the members of the Board of Supervisors,

I'm writing as a resident of Santa Monica and Sheila Kuehl's constituent to urge you to pass Item 12 on July 12. We must let the voters decide on a county charter amendment creating common sense checks and balances and accountability for the sheriff.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities.

I support the Board of Supervisors motion (agenda item no. 12) to bring a charter amendment to the voters on the November 8, 2022 election ballot that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Supervisor Kuehl and Members of the Board of Supervisors,

My name is Evelyn Wu and I am a resident and constituent of Supervisorial District #3.

I urge you to VOTE YES on ITEM 12 to create accountability for the sheriff's office, as supported by the LA County Civilian Oversight Committee (Resolution in Support of Los Angeles County Charter Amendment), over 100 community organizations (Check the Sheriff Demand Letter), and the families of victims of police violence who experience ongoing harassment and intimidation (Family Forum on LASD harassment).

The Sheriff's department should not be above the law, yet police violence continues while news about deputy gangs make national headlines.

Therefore, I support the Board of Supervisors (Board) motion (agenda item no. 12) to bring about a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Please protect the public from illegal deputy gangs, sheriffs' violations of the law and obstruction of oversight, and the unchecked deputy violence against Black and brown people.

Sincerely,

Evelyn Wu

Subject: Pass Agenda Item 12 on Tues. 7/12 to keep the sheriff accountable

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

Andrey Garcia-Ponce De Leon

The sheriff needs to be accountable to the citizens, via the BOS if necessary. How is this not already in place?

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. Subject: On Tuesday, July 12, pass Item 12 to bring about a charter amendment for sheriff accountability

Members of the Board of Supervisors,

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, I write to urge you to pass Item 12 during your July 12 meeting and propose to the voters a county charter amendment that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I support the Board of Supervisors (Board) motion (agenda item no. 12) to bring about a charter amendment for common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff. I urge the Board to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

Subject: Pass Agenda Item 12 on Tues. 7/12 to keep the sheriff accountable

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

Subject: On Tuesday, July 12, pass Item 12 to bring about a charter amendment for sheriff accountability

Members of the Board of Supervisors,

My name is Sammi, and I am a resident and constituent of district 3.

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, I write to urge you to pass Item 12 during your July 12 meeting and propose to the voters a county charter amendment that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I support the Board of Supervisors (Board) motion (agenda item no. 12) to bring about a charter amendment for common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff. I urge the Board to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. Subject: Pass Agenda Item 12 on Tues. 7/12 to keep the sheriff accountable

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

Dean Yulfo

And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

Subject: Pass Agenda Item 12 on Tues. 7/12 to keep the sheriff accountable

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

Darla Gray

Dear Member of the Board,

But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

In far too many incidents I have been personally called to assist in the investigation of breaches of civil rights on the general public and more importantly communities of color in Los Angeles County involving a certain contingent of members of the Los Angeles county sheriff's department. While I do not believe this behavior is rampant in the Los Angeles county Sheriffs department it is my belief that the associations of members of the LASD does constitute the definition of an organized group under the identification as a "gang" for the purpose of violating the civil rights of the population of Los Angeles.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

The time has long pasted to hold the office of the Los Angeles County Sheriffs Department accountable for their actions of malfeasance, misfeasance and nonfeasance in their unfettered discretion to enforce civil obedience in the County of Los Angeles without impunity from the Top down to the training procedures of all prospective deputies in the department.

The Board of Supervisors must take the appropriate action to exercise its independent authority to resolve these violations of the public trust.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Subject: Pass Agenda Item 12 on Tues. 7/12 to keep the sheriff accountable

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Sincerely,

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Members of the Board of Supervisors,

My name is Mudassir Mayet and I am a resident and constituent of SUPERVISORIAL DISTRICT #1.

Alongside more than 100 community and labor organizations, I write to urge you to pass Item 12 during your July 12 meeting and propose to the voters a county charter amendment that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights, not inflict harm, and represent the public and the common good. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. For more than 50 years, deputy gangs among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department have terrorized community members, especially in Black and brown communities.

Deputy gangs and other forms of deputy violence have persisted because one sheriff's administration after the next has failed to enact and enforce policies that provide meaningful and consistent discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill. This culture of violence has come from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a charter that works for the people of Los Angeles County today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

Besides good governance, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I support the Board of Supervisors (Board) motion (agenda item no. 12) to bring about a charter amendment for common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff. I urge the Board to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

My name is Stephanie Jeffcoat and I am a community Organizer with A New Way of Life Reentry Project. We are in support of this motion because it's time for the Los Angeles Sheriffs Department to be held accountable for their actions. We work with women who are coming home from CRDF and we hear stories from them about how their voices are unheard. Partnered with Center for Employment and Opportunity we have launched a 6 week in custody pilot program to help women prepare for employment before and after their release.

In doing the program we have noticed that the underrepresentation of black women within the classes. The Sheriffs department has the power to decide who is eligible/ineligible to participate in the program. We have witnessed just how successful women have been at reentering back into society after being a part of these cohorts, but unfortunately due to lack of funding this pilot is scheduled to end October 31,2022.

Sheriffs have tremendous power and a sheriff who abuses it has the potential to do tremendous harm. No official should have the unchecked power that is claimed by the sheriff. The way to fix this broken system is to amend the county charter to strengthen the Sheriffs accountability by creating a structure of check and balances.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

I strongly urge you to pass this motion.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

For decades, Angelenos have witnessed a culture of corruption and impunity in the sheriff's department, leaving people who are stopped or incarcerated at risk of abuse or worse. And for more than half a century, deputy gangs have emerged among the ranks and management of the sheriff's department and terrorized community members.

This culture of violence comes from the very top and is left unchecked by our dated charter.

We need a county charter that works for the people of Los Angeles today and tomorrow, and that gives us the tools necessary for when a sheriff violates the law and the public trust. We need checks and balances, which are pillars of a functioning democracy, aimed at not allowing one person or agency to become too powerful. Creating checks and balances on the sheriff has been long overdue, and changes to our county charter can ensure essential oversight of the sheriff.

At its heart, this is a matter of racial justice, and the county can no longer tinker around the edges of significant structural reform of the sheriff's department.

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Dear Member of the Board,

I write to urge you to propose to the voters an amendment to the county charter that will create common sense checks and balances and accountability of the sheriff.

No matter what office, function or role, our public officials take an oath to support and respect our rights and represent the public and the common good -- not inflict harm. But in Los Angeles County, when a sheriff breaches this oath and abuses their power, our tools for real and meaningful accountability are tragically far and few.

I am a resident of District 2 and I am representing my mother Dolores Huerta and the Dolores Huerta Foundation in strong support of item 12 – the Board motion to bring about a charter amendment for accountability of the sheriff.

Leadership in the sheriff's department has failed to establish accountability and discipline when deputies harass, abuse, and kill – a problem which disproportionately impacts Black and brown communities.

This is an issue that is close to my mother, Dolores Huerta's heart. She first became truly interested in community organizing when Fred Ross Senior shared a story of victims of police brutality who successfully sued the police department to hold officers accountable for their abuse of power. She grew up seeing her peers and family members harassed and abused by law enforcement with no justice available to them.

She herself at the age of 58 was beaten within an inch of her life by a San Francisco police officer. She successfully sued for damages. The settlement included reform in their crowd control tactics.

Citizens should not have to go to court to seek justice. Strong oversight should be built into the system.

My mother lives in and organizes in Kern County – named by The Guardian as the most deadly county in the nation at the hands of law enforcement. They have Sheriff Donny Youngblood, “an out-of-control cowboy”. Reform is extremely difficult in that environment. Here in Los Angeles we have the opportunity to set the example for the rest of California.

Checks and balances are the foundation of a strong democracy. This is a matter of racial justice. Now is the time to act and reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department and establish permanent and independent civilian oversight. ¡Si Se Puede!

Therefore, I urge the supervisors to pass Item 12 at the Board's meeting on Tuesday, July 12. I urge you to refer to the voters for the November 8, 2022 Election a charter amendment that will allow removal of the sheriff by a four-fifths vote of the Board for serious violations of the public trust, reinforce the Board's policy-making authority over the sheriff's department, and ensure permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Subject: Opposition to Motion to remove Sheriff by LACBOS

Via email to chiefs of staff/representatives for distribution (thank you).

July 12, 2022

To: Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors

Supervisor Hilda Solis, District 1

Supervisor Holly Mitchell, District 2

Supervisor Sheila Kuehl, District 3

Supervisor Janice Hahn, District 4

Supervisor Kathryn Barger, District 5

As registered voters in the County of Los Angeles we are opposed to the Motion (c. July 12, 2022) by the Los Angeles County Board (BOS) of Supervisors Holly Mitchell and Supervisor Hilda Solis that would direct County attorneys to draft required documents and ordinance to put before voters on November 8 that would allow the BOS to remove an elected sheriff with a four-fifths vote.

We question why this potential legislation is “targeting” only the Los Angeles County Sheriff that seems vindictive and retaliatory.

The people “elect” candidates for office through the voting process, and it is the people who should make the decision by virtue of the election voting process to change their status, not the BOS.

REGARDING UNANIMOUSLY APPROVED HUMAN RELATIONS COMMISSION MOTION RE: BOARD OF SUPERVISORS JULY 12th
2022 MEETING AGENDA ITEM 12 ON SHERIFF
ACCOUNTABILITY

Below is the motion which was unanimously approved by the Los Angeles County Commission on Human Relations (LACCHR) at its July 11th meeting, upon the recommendation of its Ad Hoc Committee on Policing and Human Relations, regarding Board of Supervisors 7/12/22 Meeting Agenda Item 12.

Whereas, a motion by Supervisors Holly Mitchell and Hilda Solis titled "Promoting Accountability and Community Safety Through Checks and Balances of the Los Angeles County Sheriff" is scheduled to come before the Board of Supervisors on July 12, 2022, which if passed by the Board would begin the process to place a charter amendment on the ballot for November 8, 2022, the goal of which would grant the Board of Supervisors the authority to remove the Sheriff, by a four-fifths vote for cause, such as a violation of law related to the performance of duties, flagrant or repeated neglect of duties, misappropriation of public funds or property, willful falsification of a relevant official statement or document, or obstruction of any investigation into the Sheriff's conduct by the Inspector General, Sheriff Civilian Oversight Commission, or any government agency with jurisdiction to conduct such an investigation;

Whereas, law enforcement misconduct, including by deputies of the LA Sheriff, has triggered community resistance and many of the largest episodes of racial violence in LA County’s history, including the uprising and riots after the Rodney King verdicts in 1992, the Watts Rebellion in 1965, and the Zoot Suit Riots of 1943 (which laid bare law enforcement prejudices against racial minorities of the time, and led to the formation of our Los Angeles County Commission on Human Relations (“Commission”));

Whereas, “equitable law enforcement” is at the heart of our Human Relations Commission’s mission to transform prejudice into acceptance, inequity into justice, and hostility into peace, and is a core concept of our Commission’s report “Redefining Policing with Our Community,” led by its committee on Policing and Human Relations. “Equitable law enforcement” is explained in our report as “a change from unilateral asymmetrical power dynamics...to robust, transparent oversight by the communities they serve;”

Whereas, our Commission’s Strategic Priority on Increasing Equity and Justice in LA County’s Criminal Justice and Community Safety Systems and our “Redefining Policing” report take into account the pernicious impact of intentional discrimination in our criminal justice system, but also the powerful role of implicit biases that are automatically and unconsciously created in all of us from our life experiences, and have particularly dire consequences when they are not recognized, managed, and reduced in law enforcement. As noted in the Commission’s Strategic Priority, “[w]hen the likelihood of being arrested, jailed, shot, executed, or rearrested after being released from incarceration in LA County is tied to one’s race, ethnicity, gender or other protected characteristics, fundamental human rights are at issue;”

Whereas, our Commission specifically recommends in our “Redefining Policing” report to “[e]nsure that all civilian oversight bodies have the necessary authority to perform their mission, including subpoena power and the power to censure and/or discipline” (Recommendation #8);

Whereas, in the process of creating our report on “Redefining Policing With Our Community,” which included multiple public hearings/community listening sessions in all five Supervisorial Districts, the Commission became aware of many incidents of law enforcement misconduct experienced by community members, and strong community support for effective checks and balances needed to ensure true accountability of the office of the LA County Sheriff;

Whereas, the Board of Supervisors has responsibility under law (California Government Code § 25303) for guiding and setting County policy and supervising the conduct of County officers and employees, which include the Sheriff;

THEREFORE, the Los Angeles County Commission on Human Relations resolves and recommends to the Board of Supervisors that it unanimously approve the Promoting Accountability and Community Safety Through Checks and Balances of the Los Angeles County Sheriff motion, and take all actions necessary towards achieving greater accountability of the largely unbridled power of the office of the L.A. Sheriff, reinforcing the Board’s policy-making authority regarding the Sheriff’s Department, and ensuring permanent and independent civilian oversight.

Approved by unanimous vote of members of the Commission on July 11, 2022.
