The following statement was entered into the record for Supervisor Knabe:

“To further its goal of raising the academic performance of children and youth under the supervision of the Department of Children and Family Services and Probation, the Education Coordinating Council is sponsoring a first-ever Countywide Resource Fair for 500 youth ages 0-24, their caregivers, and those who work with these youth. The California Endowment is generously providing the use of its entire Center for Healthy Communities facility, located at 1000 North Alameda Street, Los Angeles for this Fair. It will take place on June 25, 2008, from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

“This event will provide vital information about County and community resources for after school and summer enrichment programs, tutoring, mentoring, sports and arts programs, mental health services, early childhood education, workforce readiness, college preparation, libraries and literacy. Connecting youth and their caregivers to these valuable programs and services is an important start in helping to close the achievement gap between the County’s youth and other youth.”

Therefore, at the suggestion of Supervisor Knabe, and on motion of Supervisor Molina, seconded by Supervisor Antonovich, unanimously carried (Supervisor Knabe being absent), the Board took the following actions:

1. Recognized the importance of the Education Coordinating Council’s first Countywide Resource Fair, which will provide information about various County and community after school and summer enrichments programs to 500 youth under the supervision of the Department of Children and Family Services and Probation, their caregivers, and those who work with these youth;
