

MOTION BY SUPERVISOR MICHAEL D. ANTONOVICH

MAY 20, 2003

A recent Channel 2 news undercover investigation revealed several Los Angeles County traffic schools committing fraud by selling traffic school completion certifications to individuals who have not completed the required classes.

The Housing Authority for the County of Los Angeles (HACLA), under the auspices of the Los Angeles County Community Development Commission, is the Superior Court's contracted monitoring agency for traffic schools. The HACLA currently has six part-time monitors available to conduct monitoring for the County's 737 classroom traffic school sites. The HACLA may also monitor home study programs, but is not contractually obligated to do so. All classroom traffic schools must be certified by the Department of Motor Vehicles in order to operate a program.

I, THEREFORE, MOVE THAT the Board of Supervisors direct the Housing Authority for the County of Los Angeles to report on the following in open session on May 20, 2003:

- The current status of traffic school monitoring; and,
- Options available to provide enhanced monitoring under the current contract with the Superior Court to eliminate traffic school fraud.
