SUBJECT: Public Safety Realignment Implementation Update – April 2013

As directed by your Board, the County's Public Safety Realignment Team (PSRT) continues to coordinate realignment implementation and identify emerging implementation issues. Chaired by the Chief Probation Officer, PSRT has established work groups dealing with legal, revocation, and sentencing issues; re-entry and treatment coordination issues; and law enforcement coordination.

This PSRT report provides information captured by departments through March 31, 2013 and complements the Probation Department's report to your Board scheduled for April 23, 2013.

SUMMARY

- By the end of March, 14,529 individuals had been released on Postrelease Community Supervision (PCS) to Los Angeles County; 10,304 were still subject to supervision. (page 2)
- Since realignment's start, 6,129 PCS absconder warrants have been issued by the Court. Attachment I details absconder warrant data, processes, and outcomes.
- Enrollments of Postrelease Supervised Persons (PSPs) in Healthy Way L.A (HWLA) have increased significantly. Since realignment's inception, 444 PSPs have been enrolled – 299 of them in February and March. (page 2)
- Beginning July 1, 2013, revocations for state parolees will be heard in the local Court system. It is critical to emphasize that supervision and treatment services for parolees remain a state responsibility. The Chief Executive Office is re-affirming with CDCR that any additional load on local services from state parolees is beyond the scope of realignment. (pages 4-5)
- By the end of March, the realigned jail population included 5,793 offenders sentenced per Penal Code 1170 (h) and 406 sentenced parole violators. (pages 5-6)
- As requested by your Board, efforts to define recidivism in order to promote consistency in measuring justice outcomes continue. Departmental feedback at PSRT and CCJCC meetings has prioritized the need to maintain consistency with the State's previous primary measurement, which focuses on "return to custody." (page 6-7)

POSTRELEASE COMMUNITY SUPERVISION (PCS)

Participant Numbers and Projections

According to the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDCR) Law Enforcement Automated Data System (LEADS), 14,529 PSPs were released to the County on PCS between October 1, 2011 and March 31, 2013. Probation reports that 14,039 cases were accepted onto PCS. After supervision terminations and inter-county transfers, Probation had a caseload of 10,304 PSPs at the end of March.

Re-entry and Treatment Services Delivery

Promoting public safety and facilitating the successful re-entry of individuals released on PCS are the priorities of the Probation Department and partnering agencies. Interdepartmental coordination to enhance rehabilitative efforts are ongoing and include: coordinated intake and assessment, linkages to appropriate services, case management, and evidence-based supervision strategies.

Departments highlight the following with respect to the hub intake processes and re-entry strategies:

- Co-located Department of Mental Health (DMH) staff at the hubs assessed 3,711 PSPs (29% of the reporting population) by the end of March 2013.

- HWLA enrollments have increased significantly in recent months due to the cross training and designation of Department of Public Social Services (DPSS) staff to facilitate enrollment applications for qualified PSPs. Since realignment's inception, 444 PSPs have been enrolled in HWLA – 299 of them in February and March.

- The Department of Public Health – Substance Abuse Prevention and Control (DPH-SAPC) has now co-located staff from the Community Assessment and Service Centers (CASCs) at five of the six PCS hubs. Co-location at the remaining hub (San Fernando Valley) is pending identification of space for CASC staff.

- The Probation Department has briefed Board staff and the Chief Executive Office on the recommendation to extend the HealthRIGHT 360 contract for three years for the provision of supportive services to PSPs. This recommendation – to ensure continuity of employment, housing, transportation, and systems navigation services – will be presented to your Board at an upcoming meeting.

- A multi-agency work group – including staff from the CEO, Probation Department, Sheriff's Department, Public Defender's Office, DPSS, and Registrar-Recorder's Office – has convened to develop recommendations for addressing ex-offender identification needs.

The County continues to receive input on strategies for enhancing re-entry efforts from community stakeholders at PSRT monthly meetings and at other community forums in which department staff participate. To maximize coordination with community and faith based organizations, the establishment of a CBO/FBO advisory group to PSRT would be beneficial. We will discuss this recommendation with your staff to develop potential frameworks for such an advisory body.

Intermediate Sanctions and Revocations

Intermediate Sanctions

In April 2012, Probation implemented a process to track the use of intermediate sanctions. Data in Table 1 only reflect actions taken in response to violation activity. For example, PSPs placed on electronic monitoring (EM) as an initial condition of supervision would not be reflected in the GPS/EM totals.

 Year One data is through September 30, 2012. However, not all data items have been collected since the inception of the program.*

Revocations and Court Hearings
The number of PCS revocations continues to increase significantly. There were a total of 1,281 petitions for revocation filed during the first realignment implementation year (October 2011 to September 2012). Since October 1, 2012 (six months), 1,305 revocation petitions have been submitted.

Supervision and Enforcement
Probation, the Sheriff's Department, and the District Attorney's Office continue to track data on warrants, arrests, prosecutions, and other PCS enforcement efforts. Warrant data is detailed in Attachment I. Below, Table 2 provides arrest and booking data through March 2013 and new case data captured by the D.A.

Table 2 – Countywide Arrests of PSPs and New Cases

	Year 1*	Year 2							TOTAL

† This row provides the number of flash incarcerations imposed by supervision deputies as a sanction. Flash incarcerations that resulted following apprehension on a warrant are included in new offense data.

Table 2 provides an aggregate count of all bookings of PSPs, even if they have now been terminated from PCS. This differs from the arrest data presented by Probation in the departmental report to the Board, which tallies the number of times individuals who are still on PCS have been arrested. Probation's tally does not include arrests of individuals whose cases have already been closed.

Compliance Checks
As previously reported to your Board, PSRT's Law Enforcement Subcommittee initiated a review of compliance checks practices throughout the County to identify best practices for promoting officer safety, the efficient use of resources, and PSP accountability in a fair and even-handed manner. This review is being assisted by Biola University with support from the Second Supervisorial District. The team from Biola has interviewed executives from multiple law enforcement agencies to gather information on this issue.

STATE PAROLEE REVOCATIONS
Upon implementation of realignment in October 2011, the custody of state parolees serving time for revocation was shifted to counties. Effective July 1, 2013, the revocation process for state parolees is also shifted. The Board of Parole Hearings will no longer hear revocation matters; the revocation process will go through the Court, with the District Attorney, Public Defender, and Alternate Public Defender handling these matters.

PSRT's Legal Work Group continues to meet regularly to prepare for the July 1st shift. The parolee revocation process will mirror to the extent possible the existing PSP revocation process.

It should be emphasized that while the revocation process will be shifted to the Court, supervision and treatment services for state parolees remain the responsibility of state parole. With the State reducing services and resources for parolees with mental health, substance abuse, and other treatment needs, however, there is growing concern among departments that such community treatment needs will likewise be shifted to counties. This is beyond the scope of realignment and is not supported by statute or realignment funding.

The Chief Executive Office has been informed of this issue and is contacting CDCR to re-affirm that rehabilitative services for state parolees remain the responsibility of state parole.

CUSTODY

Sentences per Penal Code 1170 (h)

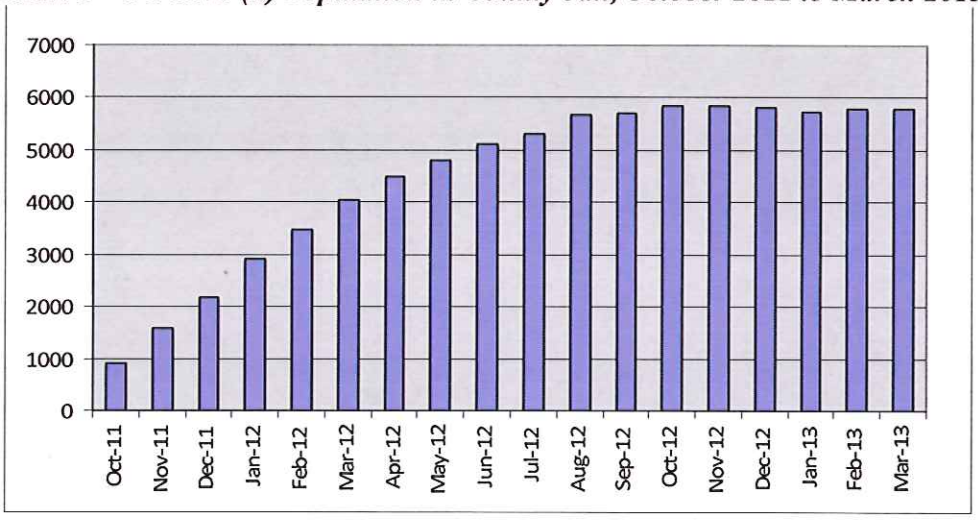
Penal Code 1170 (h) specifies that certain non-violent, non-serious, non-sexual felony offenders (N3) are no longer eligible for state prison sentences.

Agencies highlight the following facts related to PC 1170 (h) sentences:

- The Superior Court reports that 718 "split sentences" were given per PC 1170 (h) through the end of March. This represents approximately 4% of all PC 1170 (h) sentences, among the lower rates in the state.

- The Sheriff's Department reports that as of the end of March, 6,274 N3s had been released from jail after having served their full custody term. As projected by the Sheriff's Department, the number of inmates being released each month following completion of their sentence has increased significantly since October 2012. This has led to a leveling off of the PC 1170(h) population in jail, as illustrated in Chart 2.

Chart 2 – PC 1170 (h) Population in County Jail, October 2011 to March 2013



Parole and PCS Community Supervision Violations

There were 406 sentenced parole violators in custody at the end of March. As indicated in Attachment IV, the number of sentenced parole violators in the jail has dropped in recent months as the number of individuals on state supervised parole has decreased.

In contrast, the number of individuals in jail for PCS violations has significantly increased as the PCS population has grown. In year one (October 2011 to September 2012), 2,595 flash incarcerations were issued on PSPs by Probation. From October 2012 to March 2013, 4,484 have been issued.

Similarly, PCS revocations resulting in custody time have significantly increased from 257 cases in year one to 781 cases since October 2012 (6 months).

Summary of Custody Impact

On August 31, 2011 – a month prior to realignment's implementation – the jail population count was 15,598. At the end of March 2013, the total population count was 18,665 and included 5,793 individuals sentenced per PC 1170 (h).

Attachment IV provides more detailed information on the population growth and shifts since realignment. While the total population count has remained steady for several months, it should again be noted that the population only continues to be maintained at this level through early release practices for the non-realigned population.

Finally, while the population count is the primary measure of impact on the jail, it is not the only impact to monitor. Inmates with long-term sentences present additional demands on county jails, particularly when health and mental health resources needed are considered.

As reported in the November 2012 realignment report, approximately 98% of the 1170 (h) sentences have been for five years or less (two and ½ years or less to serve after credits are applied). The remaining 2% of sentences, however, have been for terms between five and 43 years. County jails are not designed for such long-term inmates, and it is recommended the County advocate for legislative change to redefine which sentences are eligible for state prison.

DEFINING RECIDIVISM

As requested by your Board, PSRT has continued to work toward a proposed common definition for "recidivism" in an effort to establish consistency in measuring justice outcomes in the County.

Recidivism definitions have been discussed at recent PSRT, CCJCC, and law enforcement subcommittee meetings. Departmental feedback has focused on maintaining consistency with the definition of recidivism used by CDCR, particularly in light of the need to assess the impact of realignment.

CDCR has used "return to prison" during a given time period as its primary measure of recidivism. A similar definition in the County would consider a return to jail or prison as the measure of recidivism. Such a definition – accounting for new convictions, revocations, and custody sanctions – would address criminal and non-compliant activity that pre-realignment could have resulted in a "return to prison" outcome.

Department feedback has also focused on the need to have common definitions throughout the state. To that end, the District Attorney has contacted the Attorney General to highlight the need for a single state definition.

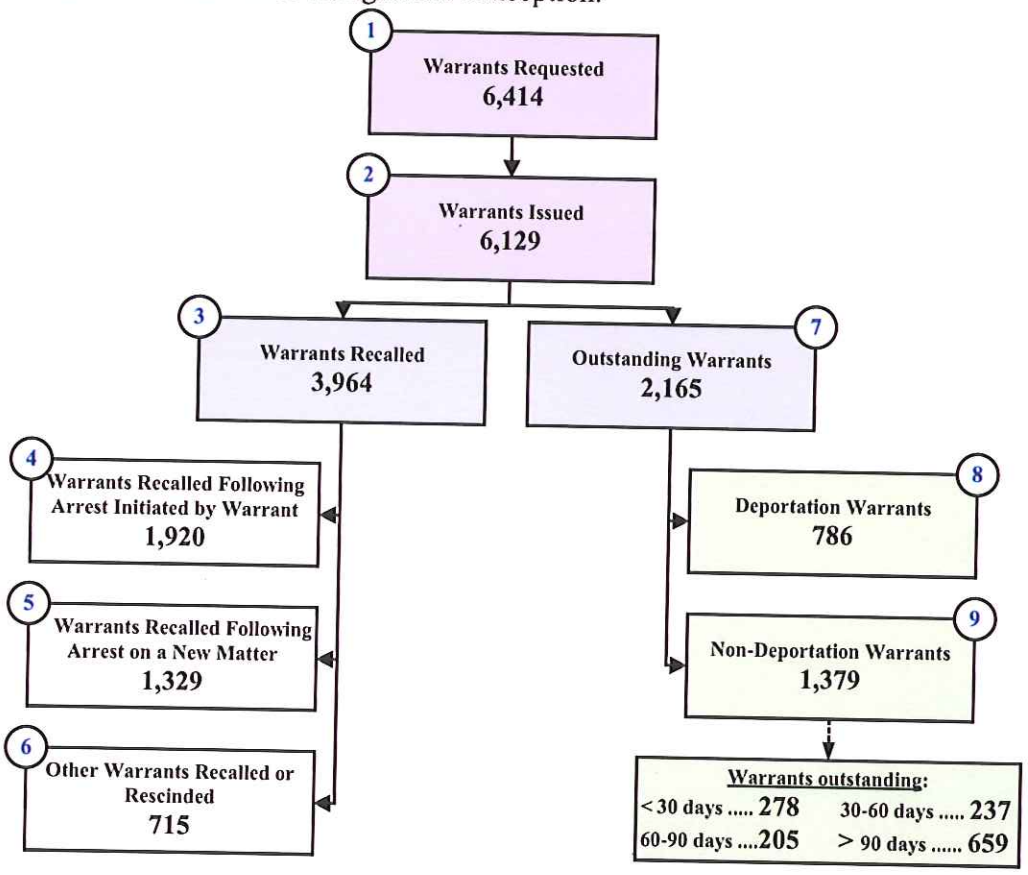
Postrelease Community Supervision Absconder Warrant Report (through March 2013)

Over 14,500 individuals were released to Los Angeles County on Postrelease Community Supervision between October 1, 2011 and March 31, 2013. During that time, 6,129 absconder warrants have been issued by the Court. The diagram below provides data and information on PSP absconder warrants since realignment's inception.



(1) 6,414 – The total number of warrants requested by Probation, which accounts for PSPs who failed to report to the hub and PSPs who reported but subsequently failed to report to Probation as instructed. (Number provided by Probation.)

(2) 6,129 – The total number of warrants issued by the Court between October 2011 and February 2013. These warrants include those requested by Probation (Box 1) and bench warrants for PSPs who failed to show to Court on revocation matters. (Number provided by Probation.)

(3) 3,964 – The number of warrants that had been recalled by the end of February. (Number provided by Probation.)

(4) 1,920 – The number of arrests where the primary booking charge was the arrest warrant (though other charges may have also resulted). The Sheriff's Department identifies these arrests as those which were prompted by the absconder warrant. (Number provided by Sheriff's Department.)

(5) 1,329 – The number of arrests where a charge other than the absconder warrant served as the primary booking charge. The Sheriff's Department identifies these cases as those where the warrant was identified after an arrest for a new crime. (Number provided by Sheriff's Department.)

(6) 715 – The number of warrants recalled that were not identified by the PSP arrest tracking system. This includes warrants that were rescinded by Probation, recalled due to a PSP walk in, and arrests outside of Los Angeles County that resulted in a warrant recall.

(7) 2,165 – The number of absconder warrants outstanding as of March 31, 2013. (Number provided by Probation)

(8) 786 – The number of deportation warrants. Individuals named in these absconder warrants have been deported by federal authorities. The warrant remains live statewide and nationally. (Number provided by Probation)

(9) 1,379 – The number of warrants outstanding for individuals other than known deportees.

Warrant Issuance Process

Following a determination that a PSP is in desertion, Probation submits a revocation petition to the Court requesting a warrant. Petitions document non-compliance with reporting instructions and unsuccessful efforts to contact or locate the PSP. Warrants approved by the Court are entered into the Trial Court Information System and the Countywide Warrant System. To ensure they are accessible to all law enforcement agencies, warrants are also entered into California's Wanted Persons System and the Federal National Crime Information Center.

Absconder Apprehension Efforts

As requested by the Board and included in the County's realignment implementation plan, the Sheriff's Department serves as the lead on absconder apprehension efforts. The Sheriff Department's Parole Compliance Team (PCT) facilitates law enforcement's efforts to locate PSPs named in a warrant. PCT pulls on a weekly basis all active warrants that have been issued by the Court and distributes the list to all law enforcement agencies.

Crime analyst teams conduct complete background checks on individuals named in warrants in an effort to identify potential locations, family members, associates, or other leads. Law enforcement teams then conduct operations to apprehend absconders.
