Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children & Youth

What is CSECY?

The commercial sexual exploitation of children and youth (CSECY) is a form of human trafficking that involves the exchange of money, goods, or services to a third person or persons for the sexual use of a child. Youth are recruited by force, fraud, or coercion for the purpose of sexual exploitation. The child is treated as a commercial and sexual object. This is a form of child sexual abuse that is experienced primarily by girls and increasingly by boys. Commercial sexual exploitation can occur through:

- ⇒ Pornography
- ⇒ Stripping
- ⇒ Erotic/nude massage
- ⇒ Escort services
- ⇒ Private parties
- ⇒ Gang-based exploitation
- ⇒ Interfamilial exploitation

Beginning in September of 2013, the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors approved a motion to establish a multi-agency, countywide response model to combat the growing problem of child sex trafficking. The Board of Supervisors continues to approve motions to ensure safety and quality of services to these youth. An interagency approach ensures that all needs of this population are addressed, including mental health.

DMH is committed to ensuring that youth who experience commercial sexual exploitation are identified within our programs and provided appropriate services and supports.

Trauma-Informed Practices

The following Trauma-Informed Practices are recommended when providing mental health treatment to CSECY:

1. Individual Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (ages 18+): an early intervention for individuals who either have or may be at risk for symptoms of anxiety, depression, and trauma.
2. Trauma Focused CBT (TF-CBT) (ages 3-18): an early intervention for youth who may be at risk for symptoms of depression and trauma.
3. Seeking Safety (SS) (ages 13+): a present-focused therapy to help people attain safety from trauma and substance abuse.
4. Crisis Oriented Recovery Services (CORS) (ages 3+): a short term intervention designed to provide immediate crisis intervention, case management, and warm linkage to ongoing services.
