The Sober Living Network is a nonprofit organization dedicated to promoting excellence in the operation and management of sober living and other community recovery support resources.

Over 25.000 men and women in Southern California find safety and support in the Network's quality sober living homes each year. Recent university research has shown sober living to be tremendously effective in promoting long-term recovery from alcoholism and addiction.

These and similar studies suggest that sober living should play a prominent role in publicly supported efforts to combat the social toll of addiction and drug dependency. However sober living is virtually ignored by most governmental sources of funding.

F. Kenneth Schonlau

March 22, 1929 –

January 22, 2009

The recovery community has lost a great friend, champion and guiding light. Ken Schonlau, or friend, mentor and founder passed away on January 22nd, 2009.

Due to his vision and tireless dedication, the Network has grown from a handful of homes to over 500, in six Southern California counties. Today we provide shelter and recovery support each year for over 25,000 men and women stuggling to overcome alcholism and addiction. The Network and its many volunteers are deeply committed to carrying on his work.

The Sober Living Network provides a range of community services, including:

- Information, training, technical assistance and advocacy for quality sober living homes and community centers;
- Development and promotion of quality assurance standards for sober living homes;
- Management assistance to five Southern California county sober living coalitions, including effective implementation of standards by their members.
- Direct assistance to homes serving at-risk women with young children. (For a description of that program, and an application for assistance, visit the Safe & Healthy Homes program page.)
- The Network is a voice for adequate recognition, respect and legitimacy for community recovery support resources.
- We're a resource to local and state governmental and administrative bodies on the policy implications of regulations concerning drug and alcohol rehabilitation and treatment, as well as land use and zoning issues that affect the health and viability of community recovery resources.

The Sober Living Network is a nonprofit tax-exempt public benefit corporation that gratefully accepts donations from those who understand the need for long-term recovery supportive housing and other community-based means of addressing the disease of addiction.
