A training conference for all clinicians, Asian and non-Asian:

This one day training conference offers mental health professionals and students/trainees, consumers & their family members an opportunity to acquire knowledge and skills in treating Asian American consumers who are facing the death of loved ones. As a result of this training, participants will be better able to communicate with consumers who have terminal illness, confront the loss of a patient and help those who have lost a loved one. Through the workshop presentations, participants will learn to apply culturally appropriate strategies to help their Asian consumers cope with dying, grieving and rebuilding. Each participant requesting CEU credits is required to fill out a program evaluation form.

The educational objectives are to:

1. Learn appropriate ways to communicate with consumers facing their final days (terminal illness);
2. Address issues pertaining to consequences of different types of grieving: complicated and normal;
3. Identify unique aspects of suicide grief and effective resources and interventions for suicide loss.

Presents:

Good Grief: Helping Asian Americans Deal with Death and Dying

A training conference for all clinicians:

This one day training conference offers mental health professionals and students/trainees an opportunity to acquire knowledge and skills in treating Asian American clients who are facing the death of loved ones. As a result of this training, participants will be better able to communicate with patients who have terminal illness, confront the loss of a patient and help those who have lost a loved one. Through the workshop presentations, participants will learn to apply culturally appropriate strategies to help their Asian clients cope with dying, grieving and rebuilding. No pre-requisite is required. Each participant requesting CEU credits is required to fill out a program evaluation form.

The educational objectives are to:

1. Learn appropriate ways to communicate with patients facing their final days (terminal illness);
2. Address issues pertaining to consequences of different types of grieving: complicated and normal;
3. Identify unique aspects of suicide grief and effective resources and interventions for suicide loss.
