PREVENTION AND EARLY INTERVENTION

The Los Angeles County Prevention and Early Intervention (PEI) Plan focuses on evidence-based, promising or community defined evidence practices, education, support, and outreach to help inform and identify individuals who may be affected by some level of mental health issue.

Prevention in mental health involves reducing risk factors or stressors, building protective factors and skills, and increasing support.

Early Intervention is directed toward individuals and families for whom a short (usually less than one year), relatively low-intensity intervention is appropriate to measurably improve mental health problems and avoid the need for more extensive mental health treatment.

GLOSSARY OF EVIDENCE-BASED TREATMENTS SERVING TAY

DESCRIPTION	TREATMENT FOCUS	AGE GROUP SERVED
Aggression Replacement Training © (ART) is a multimodal psycho-educational intervention designed to alter the behavior of chronically aggressive adolescents and young children. Its goal is to improve social skills, anger control, and moral reasoning. The program incorporates three specific interventions: skill-streaming, anger control training, and training in moral reasoning. Skill-streaming teaches pro-social skills. In anger control training, youths are taught how to respond to their hassles. Training in moral reasoning is designed to enhance youths' sense of fairness and justice regarding the needs and rights of others.	Disruptive Behavioral Disorders	5-17
Brief Strategic Family Therapy (BSFT) is a short-term, problem-oriented, family-based intervention designed for children and adolescents who are displaying or are at risk for developing behavior problems, including substance abuse. The goal of BSFT is to improve a youth's behavior problems by improving family interactions that are presumed to be directly related to the child's symptoms, thus reducing risk factors and strengthening protective factors for adolescent drug abuse and other conduct problems.	Severe Behavioral Disorders	10-18
Center for Assessment and Prevention of Prodromal States (CAPPS) is a family focused therapy for youth at ultra-high risk for psychosis and their families. It is a manualized 18-session family focused treatment program. The actual name for this practice is called Family-Focused Therapy for Prodromal Youth (FFT-PY).	First Break	16-25
Crisis Oriented Recovery Services (CORS) is a short-term intervention designed to provide immediate crisis intervention, address identified case management needs, and assures hard linkage to ongoing services. The primary objective is to assist individuals in resolving and/or coping with psychosocial crises by mitigating additional stress or psychological harm. It promotes the development of coping strategies that individuals can utilize to help restore them to their previous level of functioning prior to the crisis event.	Crisis	4+
Depression Treatment Quality Improvement Intervention (DTQI) is a comprehensive approach to managing depression that utilizes quality improvement processes to guide the therapeutic services to adolescents and young adults. The psycho-education component helps individuals learn about major depression and ways to decrease the likelihood of becoming depressed in the future. The psychotherapy component assists individuals who are currently depressed to gain understanding of factors that have contributed to the onset and maintenance of their depression and learn ways to treat their disorder.	Depression	12-20
Dialectical Behavior Therapy (DBT) serves individuals who have or may be at risk for symptoms related to emotional dysregulation, which can result in the subsequent adoption of impulsive and problematic behaviors, including suicidal ideation. DBT incorporates a wide variety of treatment strategies including chain analysis, validation, dialectical strategies, mindfulness, contingency management, skills training and acquisition (core mindfulness, emotion regulation, interpersonal effectiveness, distress tolerance and self-management), crisis management, and team consultation.	Emotional Dysregulation	18+
Families Over Coming Under Stress (FOCUS) is family resiliency training for Military families, couples, and children who experience difficulties with multiple deployments, injuries, PTSD, and combat operational issues. FOCUS believes that poor communication skills and combat operational stress leads to distortions in thinking and family detachment. Treatment is delivered to couples and/or the family as a whole, with hopes of building upon existing strengths and positive coping strategies as well as increasing communication and decreasing stress.	Parenting & Family Difficulties	5+

Functional Family Therapy (FFT) is a family-based, short-term prevention and intervention program for acting-out youth. It focuses on risk and protective factors that impact the adolescent, specifically intrafamilial and extrafamilial factors, and how they present and influence the therapeutic process. Major goals are to improve family communication and supportiveness while decreasing intense negativity these families experience.	Severe Behavioral Disorders	10-18
Group Cognitive Behavioral Therapy for Major Depression (Group CBT) focuses on changing an individual's thoughts (cognitive patterns) in order to change his or her behavior and emotional state. Treatment is provided in a group format and assumes maladaptive, or faulty, thinking patterns cause maladaptive behavior and negative emotions. Group format is particularly helpful in challenging distorted perceptions and bringing thoughts more in line with reality. Cultural tailoring of treatment and case management shows increased effectiveness for low-income Latino and African-American adults.	Depression	18+
Individual Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (Individual CBT) is intended as an early intervention for individuals who either have or may be at risk for symptoms related to the early onset of anxiety, depression, and the effects of trauma that impact various domains of daily living. CBT incorporates a wide variety of treatment strategies including psycho-education, skills acquisition, contingency management, Socratic questioning, behavioral activation, exposure, cognitive modification, acceptance and mindfulness strategies and behavioral rehearsal.	Depression	18+
Interpersonal Psychotherapy for Depression (IPT) is a short-term therapy (8-20 weeks) that is based on an attachment model, in which distress is tied to difficulty in interpersonal relationships. IPT targets the TAY population suffering from non-psychotic, uni-polar depression. IPT targets not only symptoms, but improvement in interpersonal functioning, relationships, and social support. Therapy focuses on one or more interpersonal problem areas, including interpersonal disputes, role transitions, and grief and loss issues.	Depression	12+
Loving Intervention Family Enrichment Program (LIFE) is an adaptation of Parent Project, LIFE is a 22-week skills-based curriculum implemented with multi-family groups for parents with children at risk of or involved with the juvenile justice system. The program was designed for low income Latino families with monolingual (Spanish) parents of children at high-risk of delinquency and/or school failure.	Parenting & Family Difficulties	10-17
Managing and Adapting Practice (MAP) is designed to improve the quality, efficiency, and outcomes of children's mental health services by giving administrators and practitioners easy access to the most current scientific information and by providing user-friendly monitoring tools and clinical protocols. Using an online database, the system can suggest formal evidence-based programs or can provide detailed recommendations about discrete components of evidence-based treatments relevant to a specific youth's characteristics. MAP as implemented in L.A. County has four foci of treatment, namely, anxiety, depression, disruptive behavior, and trauma.	Anxiety, Depression, Trauma, & Disruptive Behaviors	0-21
Mental Health Integration Program (MHIP) is delivers specialty mental health services to Tier 2 PEI participants with mild to moderate mental health symptoms that are appropriately served through focused, time limited early intervention strategies. An integrated behavioral health intervention program is provided within a primary care facility or in collaboration with a medical provider. MHIP is used to treat depressive disorders, anxiety disorders or PTSD, and to prevent a relapse of symptoms.	Trauma & Depression	18+

DESCRIPTION	TREATMENT FOCUS	AGE GROUP SERVED
Multidimensional Family Therapy (MDFT) is a family-based treatment and substance-abuse prevention program to help adolescents to reduce or eliminate substance abuse and behavior/conduct problems, and improve overall family functioning through multiple components, assessments, and interventions in several core areas of life. There are also two intermediate intervention goals for every family: 1) helping the adolescent achieve an interdependent attachment/bond to parents/family; and 2) helping the adolescent forge durable connections with pro-social influences such as schools, peer groups, and recreational and religious institutions.	Severe Behavioral Disorders	11-18
Multisystemic Therapy (MST) targets youth with criminal behavior, substance abuse and emotional disturbance, as well as juvenile probation youth. MST typically uses a home-based approach to reduce barriers that keep families from accessing services. Therapists concentrate on empowering parents and improving their effectiveness by identifying strengths and developing natural support systems (e.g. extended family, friends) and removing barriers (e.g. parental substance abuse, high stress).	Severe Behavioral Disorders	11-17
Prolonged Exposure – Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PE-PTSD) is an early intervention, cognitive behavioral treatment for individuals experiencing symptoms indicative of early signs of mental health complications due to experiencing one or more traumatic events. Individual therapy is designed to help clients process traumatic events and reduce their PTSD symptoms as well as depression, anger, and general anxiety.	Trauma	18-70
Seeking Safety (SS) is a present-focused therapy that helps people attain safety from trauma or PTSD and substance abuse. It consists of 25 topics that focus on the development of safe coping skills while utilizing a self-empowerment approach. The treatment is designed for flexible use and is conducted in group or individual format, in a variety of settings, and for culturally diverse populations.	Trauma	13+
Strengthening Families Program (SFP) is a family-skills training intervention designed to enhance school success and reduce substance use and aggression among youth. Sessions provide instruction for parents on understanding the risk factors for substance use, enhancing parent-child bonding, monitoring compliance with parental guidelines, and imposing appropriate consequences, managing anger and family conflict, and fostering positive child involvement in family tasks. Children receive instruction on resisting peer influences.	Severe Behavioral Disorders	3-16
Trauma Focused Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (TF-CBT) is an early intervention for children who may be at risk for symptoms of depression and psychological trauma, subsequent to any number of traumatic experiences, particularly those individuals who are not currently receiving mental health services. Services are specialized mental health services delivered by clinical staff, as part of multi-disciplinary treatment teams. Program is intended to reduce symptoms of depression and psychological trauma, which may be the result of any number of traumatic experiences (e.g., child sexual abuse, domestic violence, traumatic loss, etc.), for children and TAY receiving these services.	Trauma	3-18
Positive Parenting Program (Triple P) is intended for the prevention and early intervention of social, emotional and behavioral problems in childhood, the prevention of child maltreatment, and the strengthening of parenting and parental confidence. Levels Two and Three, which focus on preventive mental health activities, are being implemented through community-based organizations. Levels Four and Five, which are early interventions parenting and teen modules, are being implemented by DMH directly operated and contract agencies.	Parenting & Family Difficulties	0-18
