Reducing the Population in Juvenile Facilities

Over the last week, the Los Angeles County juvenile hall population dropped from 314 to 302 and the juvenile residential camp population rose from 204 to 206 over the same period. Since March 2, the juvenile hall population has decreased by 249 youth, or 45.2% and the juvenile camp population has decreased by 83 youth, or 28.7%.

The L.A. County Probation Department continues to work with the courts and legal partners on methods to safely reduce the juvenile population housed at Probation facilities. A new warrant protocol has been developed after other jurisdictions around the State were surveyed to find other tools instead of automatic detention for warrants. This exploration process led to a reimagining of the Warrant detention protocol. The protocol was developed, vetted with the courts and stakeholders, and was implemented June 23. Warrants led to approximately 30% of detentions before this change. The expectation is this new protocol will lead to reduced police/youth contact and a significant reduction in detention numbers.

Health Care Services

Juvenile Court Health Services (JCHS) continues to work with Probation facility staff regarding the care of the youth in the Quarantine and Isolation units to prevent potential spread of disease. JCHS nurses have trained selected Probation staff at the juvenile halls and camps for the use of infrared thermometers on all staff and visitors upon entry to the facility. A DHS Infectious Disease specialist is assigned to assist correctional facilities. He is a clinical resource for medical staff to help workflow and answer clinical questions.

The Department has continued to partner with JCHS to develop telemedicine services for assessment and consultation by medical staff and to build 24/7 capacity that currently does not exist. Telemedicine workstations are now operational in all juvenile halls and camps.

L.A. County Probation and Juvenile Court Health Services (JCHS) continues to closely monitor the health of youth in Probation juvenile facilities. Besides testing youth displaying possible COVID-19 symptoms, all youth who are entering and departing juvenile hall for another facility are tested for COVID-19. Youth who have tested positive are housed in a designated isolation unit, separate and apart from other youth until cleared by medical staff to return to a traditional housing assignment. Additionally, all youth in juvenile facilities are provided with masks.

Staff Health and Screening Measures

The Department is screening every person entering a juvenile detention facility. Those attempting to enter a juvenile hall or camp at any time are required to verbally respond if they currently have new or worsening symptoms of a respiratory illness. If the individual's response is that they are experiencing symptoms, they will be restricted from entering the facility that day. The department is also conducting infrared temperature checks on all individuals entering juvenile facilities.

Employees testing positive are legally entitled to privacy and we will provide no further details at this time. For each employee who has tested positive, the County will notify potential workplace contacts, including other employees who may have been in close contact with the COVID-19 positive individual. All Probation staff have been instructed to wear face coverings in line with County and State Health Orders as part of an employee outreach campaign.

Staffing of Juvenile Facilities

The Department ensures that all critical security and safety posts are staffed as required by the Board and State Community Standards and in accordance with the Department's Emergency Operations Plan. Contingency plans have been developed and put in place if facilities are not adequately staffed. Juvenile and Adult Field Operations have been designated to assist and have continued to report to the halls and camps since March 23, 2020.

Expanded Precautions at Probation Offices and Facilities

In addition to efforts outlined in past updates, Probation has made additional efforts to keep youth and staff safe from COVID-19:

- The Department has issued masks to all staff and youth in juvenile halls and residential camps.
- Flu shot clinics are being planned for staff in juvenile institutions. JCHS is making plans for the vaccination of youth against the seasonal flu as well.
- Probation's Management Services Bureau continue to provide janitorial services at facilities to ensure all bathrooms and staff quarters (where applicable) are cleaned daily and have readily available hand soap, paper towels, toilet paper and disinfectant. The Department has also hired additional staff to clean and disinfect common touch areas twice per shift.

All Probation facilities have been instructed to conduct additional deep-cleaning efforts in high-traffic, high-volume areas, including visiting and health care facilities. Staff have also been granted permission to carry personal-use hand sanitizer. Public Health guidelines are reinforced daily to all staff and youth of the importance of social distancing and frequent handwashing.

Youth-Parent Communications

In person weekend visitation at juvenile institutions is scheduled to resume this weekend after being canceled last weekend due to the extremely unhealthy air quality. Any decision to cancel weekend visitations are made in close consultation with JCHS with close attention paid to environmental concerns as visitations are taking place outdoors because of COVID-19 precautions.

During in person visitations, parents and family members follow safety precautions put in place, including outdoor visits, physical distancing, usage of hand sanitizing stations and having their temperature checked via infrared thermometers as well as a designated custodian who is responsible for cleaning chairs and tables after each visit. Procedures for visiting are sent out to parents as well as posted on the Probation website. Increased collaboration and partnership with JCHS and the Department of Public Health takes place to ensure health and safety is properly addressed as visiting sessions are reopened. The resumption of visitation at facilities is taking place as a phased, week by week approach, with safety focused criteria dictating the pace and locations.

The Probation Department continues to utilize virtual platforms for keeping families connected in addition to in person visiting. Youth are able to make free phone calls to families and are also provided with supplies for letter writing. The Department pays for all postage regardless of the number of letters a youth sends out.

Other Juvenile Facilities Highlights

- In person religious services are scheduled to take place at Barry J. Nidorf Juvenile Hall and the Dorothy Kirby Center this weekend, with plans to expand services to other facilities in the coming weeks. In place of in person services, juvenile halls have been providing virtual church services in coordination with the Los Angeles Archdiocese and Chaplain's Eagles.

- Probation Education Services has partnered with the Los Angeles County Registrar-Recorder's office to provide voter registration information to youth in the detention facilities. This initiative builds a sense of belonging, civic responsibility, and assists in community building. Education Services staff trained in voter education and are actively engaging with the youth to support them into the voter registration process. The pre-registration services are provided to youth between the ages of 16 and 17. The youth who are 18 years of age and older have completed their voter registration forms and are eligible to vote during elections.
- The Los Angeles County Office of Education has begun a project to install wifi networking in the living units at juvenile facilities.

Efforts to Address the Medically Fragile Population in Detention Facilities

The Probation Department continues to not have any youth with compromised immune systems or other medical conditions placing them at higher risk for COVID-19 infection. As previously reported, if any youth have other underlying medical conditions which might exacerbate the impact of such infection if one were to occur, the Department will work with Juvenile Court Health Services (JCHS) to assess and address those issues on a case by case basis.

Mental Health Services

The Department of Mental Health (DMH) implemented virtual counseling kiosks in Juvenile facilities to supplement the existing in person services provided to youth.

School for Youth in Juvenile Facilities

Los Angeles County Office of Education (LACOE) efforts to provide a quality education to youth in Probation facilities during the pandemic can be found at <https://www.lacoe.edu/LACOE-Schools/Covid-19-Distance-Learning-Plan>.

Virtual Court Hearings

Video Court for the juvenile facilities continue to operate effectively. A youth that needs to attend court but is in a quarantined unit will not be transported to court.

Juvenile Placement Update

As of September 17, 2020, there are 210 youth placed in short term residential treatment programs (STRTP). In addition, there are 20 youth placed in out of state residential programs and 23 youth placed with resource families. Of the youth in STRTP's, 10 youth are in quarantine and four who are placed out of state are in quarantine. Currently there are no youth in STRTP who have tested positive for COVID-19.
