FAIR FEATURES PROBATION, SHERIFF, HIGHWAY PATROL, EMT AND MORE

"Today's Career Fair is a great way to show young people that they have options. It is our way of planting a seed about the various jobs that the Probation Department offers," expressed Supervising Deputy Probation Officer Sepulveda. "It's a way to educate them on how we help people, young and old."

On April 13th, the Los Angeles County Probation Department's new Mobile Resource Center (MRC) rolled out to Highland High School's Law Enforcement Career Day in Antelope Valley. The MRC, AB109, CCTP, and Department Recruitment Officers proudly represented the agency in the community. It was the Department's 5th year participating in this community event. SDPO Sepulveda shared that 90% of the officers at the event reside in that community. "It's personal for us," he said. "We want to make sure that this community is being taken care of. It's a commitment to the community we are a part of."

Throughout the morning, the officers engaged with thousands of energetic students from Highland High School, local middle schools, and elementary schools. "The students wanted to know about my job as a Probation Officer, and I was proud to share with them that I'm not just an Officer at my assigned school campus. As a PO, I go on field trips to Grad Night and Prom. I attend all the sporting events and run the baseball and football games snack bar. Probation Officers are not just there as law enforcement officers. We are actually there to help and support them," explained DPO II Guidry.

The Officers chatted with the students, sharing the vision and mission of the Department. They answered numerous questions, provided giveaways, and allowed the young people to tour the Mobile Resource Center and learn about its features.

A Highland High Student shared, "It's a lot of careers here that I don't hear much about, so today is cool. I don't know a lot about law enforcement except for what I see on TV, and that's not really good for my culture. I've been taught to fear them. But today, I've met a lot of nice officers. It's nice to know Probation helps people. Probation seems like a really cool job."

The Law Enforcement Career Fair featured multiple agencies, including the Probation Department, Sheriff's Department, EMT, Corrections, Search and Rescue, Highway Patrol, and many more.

The kids were excited to learn about all the services and resources the Probation Department provides its clients. In addition, many were impressed hearing about all the career possibilities that serve the community and aid in public safety. Thank you to the Los Angeles County Probation Officers that participated in this community event. Hopefully, some more great Deputies will join our ranks in the future.
