EARLY INTERVENTION DIVERSION PROGRAM RECEIVES 'PROMISING' RATING

The National Institute of Justice's CrimeSolutions recently completed a review of the Los Angeles County Probation Department's Early Intervention Diversion Program and rated it as Promising Practice. The NIJ is tasked by Congress with producing real-world benefits, through scientific innovation, for justice agencies, their stakeholders and the public.

To help agencies know what works, what doesn't, and what's promising, NIJ's CrimeSolutions has established a process for identifying and rating programs and practices. After reviewing the Early Intervention Diversion Program they found there was "evidence to indicate that the program achieves justice-related outcome(s) when implemented with fidelity to the design," thereby receiving a Promising rating.

The program profile of the Early Intervention Diversion Program will be highlighted and made available on the CrimeSolutions website. It will also be included in the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention's Model Programs Guide.

Congratulations to the Residential Treatment Services Bureau team!

LAC PROBATION AND BLACK PROBATION OFFICER'S ASSOCIATION KICK-OFF MENTORSHIP PROGRAM

The Los Angeles County Probation Department has joined the Black Probation Officer's Association and developed a comprehensive mentorship program. On Thursday, August 4th, they hosted the program's kickoff event at Liberty Community Center, welcoming several sworn and non-sworn participants.

The mentoring program is unique in that it includes seven STC certified training classes and allows for one-on-one tutelage, for those sworn and non-sworn. The goal is to initiate engagement cultivation through strong relationships, motivation for all involved, and most of all building tradition and legacy.
