

LOS ANGELES COUNTY PROBATION AT TASTE OF SOUL!

PROBATION DEPT REPRESENTED AT THE LARGEST FREE STREET FESTIVAL IN LA

On Saturday, October 15th, the biggest free street festival in Los Angeles returned after a three-year hiatus. The 17th edition of the Taste of Soul LA festival was held on Crenshaw Boulevard and featured five stages of performers playing gospel, jazz, and R&B. Over 150 food vendors served up dishes from soul food and desserts to fried fish and barbecue.

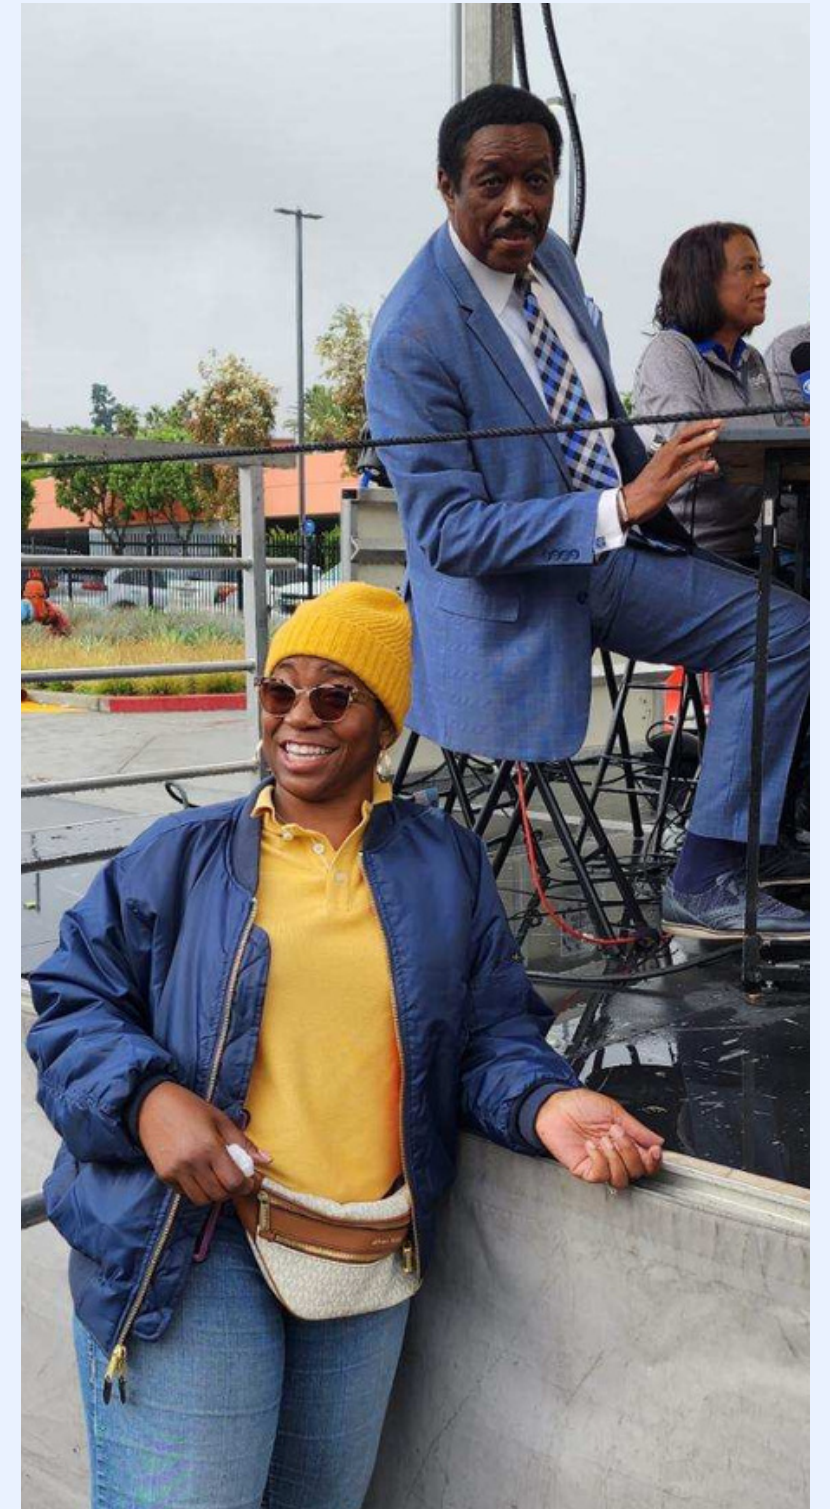

Los Angeles County's Director of the Department of Human Resources, Lisa Garrett, stopped by the Probation Department's Taste of Soul booth where the recruitment team of SDPO Torres, SDPO Sakoda, and DPO MacMillan, and Community Engagement & Homeless/Veterans Specialist, DPO Il Holts represented the department. The team provided information on community resources and helped to promote the department to the next generation of probation officers.

Thanks to the probation staff for keeping a pulse on the community and always serving with compassion!
