

Camp Glenn Rockey

Camp Glenn Rockey is the oldest juvenile camp in the county. It was originally established in 1931 as part of the federal Civilian Conservation Corps. The camp was named after Glenn Rockey, a Fire Captain with the Los Angeles Forester and Fire Warden. Fire Captain Rockey and five juvenile members of the LA County Probation Forestry Camp crew, lost their lives on September 2, 1955, in an active fire suppression work. Camp Rockey is in the foothills of San Dimas. It contains an open dormitory, a secure housing unit with 20 individual rooms, administrative building, school facility, gymnasium, kitchen and dining area.

Camp Glenn Rockey houses post dispositioned male probation youth between the ages of 13-18. All youth have been ordered by a juvenile delinquency court to 5-7 or 7-9 months in locked camp community placement program. Sustained petitions include but are not limited to violations of penal code 245 PC (assault with deadly weapon), 211 PC (robbery) and 664/187 PC (attempted murder).

Camp Rockey offers educational, therapeutic, and vocational programs to support youth rehabilitation, including:

- Wolf Connection: This program helps youth connect with their authentic selves through interactions with rescued wolves and nature. The experience fosters self-awareness, emotional healing, and a sense of belonging within a community.
- Financial Literacy: A probation-led program that teaches financial responsibility through lessons on money management, credit, investments, entrepreneurship, and business structure. The curriculum includes presentations, assessments, worksheets, and discussions.
- Iron Man: Focuses on health and fitness, this probation-led program engages youth in cardio, HIIT, and weightlifting while promoting teamwork, discipline, and sportsmanship.
