NARRATIVE:

Alissa Jones has an extensive adult criminal history that began at the age of 20. Her convictions include multiple robberies, receiving stolen property, possession of a firearm by felon, several cases of prostitution, solicitation of lewd conduct, possession of controlled substances, driving under the influence and failing to report. She has served multiple prison terms, the longest being a 9 year term for robbery. Jones was released from state prison to the supervision of the Los Angeles County Probation Department on December 9, 2014. Under the Governor's Public Safety Realignment Act of 2011, better known as Assembly Bill 109 (AB 109) the responsibility of lower-level offenders was shifted from the State to Los Angeles County. She subsequently failed to report to her probation officer and an arrest warrant was issued in December 2014 after she absconded from post release community supervision (PRCS). Jones qualified to be released to the supervision of probation, under AB 109, because her current commitment offense for possession of controlled substances is defined as non-serious and non-violent under the California penal code. Her criminal history and current failure to comply with the terms of release make her a most wanted. If you know her whereabouts please contact...
