HOLLYWOOD MH CENTER STAFF BRING CHILDREN TO WORK!

Malia Manahan & Lily Ramirez

Employees from Hollywood Mental Health Center, very excitedly, took part in this year's "Bring your Daughter/Son to Work Day" festivities. Dennis Griffin, LCSW, and Mental Health Clinical Supervisor for FSP, gave a lively speech on asking for help, believing in yourself, and doing your part. Mr. Griffin was a natural with the young crowd and motivated them to excel and consider becoming the future generation of LACDMH employees.

At Hollywood Mental Health Center's outpatient clinic, Sandra Chacon's daughter, Malia Manahan's class at Arroyo Seco Museum Science Elementary, created colorful cards with messages like "Have a great day!" and "Hope you feel better!" Sandra and Malia put together goody bags with healthy snacks, and attached the cards that Malia's classmates crafted. On the afternoon of this fun day, Malia, and Lily Ramirez, Vianney Vazquez's niece, distributed the goody bags to clients of Hollywood MHC. The girls were eager to help the clients with whom their parents/relatives work with daily. Clients expressed gratitude for the gifts, and left the clinic with huge smiles over simply being acknowledged by two little girls at the clinic. – By Vianney Vazquez
