40.		Oppose	V V Citizen	Why have workforce contracts when the workers try to sue the city/county for healthcare and higher wages. The contractor should be responsible for this.
		Other	Manny Cerda	AYE of Catholic Charities of Los Angeles is a non-profit that has been providing workforce services to the greater Los Angeles Area since 1965. AYE has operated a youth program out of the East Los Angeles West San Gabriel Valley AJCC for over 25 consecutive years and has strong roots in the community and its constituents, which are imperative in order to successfully connect youth and adults in the region with education and work opportunities. I want to express my disappointment with the current review, selection, and appeal process of the America's Job Centers of California (AJCC) Modernization Request for Proposals. There seem to be discrepancies regarding the rating systems and mandated recommendations that were required for this proposal, which in my opinion have affected the final results. The East Los Angeles Community and all the surrounding unincorporated communities face a multitude of challenges that require services, resources, and an investment in human capital. AYE has partnered with community based organizations, educational institutions, and businesses to bring a comprehensive delivery of workforce services to the community.
