		Other	GENEVIEVE M CLAVREUL	It's concerning that several reappointments to the HIV commission have been on this commission for many, many years. Why in a county as large as ours with so many individuals living with or impacted by HIV/AIDS and with so many non-profits and other similar agency serving the needs of those living with HIV/AIDS that the commission seems to recycle so many of the same nominees. In addition, this commission seems to be in "charge" of selecting their membership, this practice has raised concerns among numerous HIV/AIDS providers. More than one agency personnel has expressed concern that some appointments appeared to be made based solely on the willingness of the appointee to support the HIV commissions in its decision rather than an independent voice representing the appointee's area of expertise or lived experience.
