			Dorothy Wong	Unincorporated areas in LA County need more representation and intentional community collaboration can bring transparency. Public Works also needs to also find its way forward who are often overburdened.
			Jessica M Wilson	I absolutely support Supervisor Horvath and Hahn's initiative to increase the number of LA County Supervisors to better represent Los Angeles and the many diverse communities within. With this improvement, more locally-focused improvements to our communities could be voiced and put into action.
			Karen A Eyres
			Lionel Mares	By reforming the County Charter, we have the opportunity to create a governance model that is more effective, representative, and accountable to Angelenos. Establishing an independent ethics commission increases transparency, builds public trust, and fights corruption. This body will investigate allegations of misconduct and will serve as a gatekeeper on campaign finance, lobbying, contracts, and developers.
			Rosi Dagit	A Long overdue and necessary effort to have the governance of LA County be more responsive and reflective of its population and community. Appreciate the efforts to move this forward. gratefully, Rosi Dagit
			Shona Ganguly
		Stephanie Girvan	These reforms are desperately needed. These measures can make our government more representative, transparent and democratic. Thank you to Supervisors Horvath and Hahn for your leadership.
