			Cher Gilmore	I think this is a terrific idea, and hopefully will call attention to the need to preserve MORE of our old growth oaks. It's the older trees that are the best carbon sinks, so we need to protect them as one aspect of our overall effort to reduce carbon emissions.
			Elizabeth M Lyons	For over 25 years since I moved to Santa Clarita, I have been a champion of the trees that have been a symbol of and inspiration for the natural beauty and environmental health of our precious area. Above all, Oak trees have stood for centuries as giants in our landscape, providing clean air, scrubbing pollution, offering shelter for wildlife, shade and cooling for all species including our own, and moisture. Their roots hold the soil, their leaves adding ornamentation, and their greenery a relief from desert blandness in this hot climate. I could not be more heartened than to hear that Old Glory will be protected and honored in this way. My thanks to SCOPE and Ms. Barger, and all who worked so hard to make this happen. Thank you!
			John Quigley	I applaud all those who helped create this long overdue historic landmark designation for Old Glory. This magnificent mother tree has stood since before the birth of our country. A powerful symbol of resilience, community action, and the importance of nature. May this step protect more trees and lead to wiser leadership in how we approach future developments. May we recognize that our natural heritage is the source of our country's strength.
			Lynne Plambeck	Attached file of petition signatures in favor of designation, pictures of the oak
			Michael Che
			Santa Clarita Organization for Planning and the Environment	We are so pleased that our magnificent Old Glory Pico Oak will soon become a County Landmark. SCOPE and other community members began working on this idea around two years ago as a way to bring attention to this incredible tree. We believe it is a great way to honor its survival and all the people who helped to save it as well as bringing attention to the importance of oaks and the part they play in cleaning our air and protecting us against climate change. Oaks are a baseline ecosystem species that are necessary for the survival of many other local native birds, animals and plants. They also provide a cooling tree canopy throughout Los Angeles County. We are grateful to the Board of Supervisors for recognizing the many attributes of our native oaks, and especially for granting landmark status to this very special tree.
