13.		Favor	Douglas Nolan	We should have a button on MyLA311 for someone who is having a mental breakdown. By that, I mean homeless, naked in the streets, screamers. I cannot tell you the number of times I have encountered someone who is screaming, covered in their own feces, naked in public on public transit platforms, and defecating on public sidewalks. If we had a button on our phones that could alert a team to come with a van, get the person, put them in a mental health facility, and shoot them up with some kind of tranquilizer so they can initially sleep off their anxiety. Plus, there is a Mental Health Urgent Care called Exodus that I have seen only have 3 out of 15 beds filled.
