		Other	Michael V Roddy	Please consider avoiding the use of lumber for housing in Los Angeles. The recent 5 large fires were the result of lumber framing. Most other countries avoid wood for that reason, and prefer to build with inert materials, such as steel or masonry. I have a publication record and have built 465 houses with light gauge steel framing. None of them burned. In some areas of Los Angeles, everything burned, except a few trees.
