		Oppose	Chief Marcella fain-sims	more of the focus should be on hospital patient care and strengthening patient relations as well as availability of funding towards acute care and terminal illness treatments and procedures. for e.g. training and more physicians that will implement or perform "reverse cell therapy and other ground breaking science. some created in southern california lack notice to the public of its existence and opportunity.
			Daria Brooks	Given that L.A. County Public Health and the Board of Supervisors continue to refuse to take any action to protect our citizens from the proliferation of DANGEROUS NORWAY RATS throughout the 2nd District—a situation created by the presence of hundreds of filthy, dilapidated recreational vehicle 'dwellings' and street level hovels, we hardly see the point in throwing more good money after bad. This plan needs to be reintroduced once the rat situation has been addressed and plans formulated to mitigate this issue.
