

Retroactive Fee Waiver for the Urban Voices Project's 10th Year Anniversary Celebration

Urban Voices Project (UVP) is a nonprofit organization dedicated to using music to foster wellness and community among individuals affected by homelessness. UVP amplifies artistic expression through community singing to improve wellbeing, strengthen social networks, and inspire individuals to be their own best advocates. UVP celebrated their 10-Year Anniversary with a large-scale public event on Saturday, May 24, 2025, at the Zipper Concert Hall located at the Colburn School. The celebration included an outdoor pre-concert festival and a formal indoor concert with several staff members, volunteers, and about 250 guests attending. Prior to the celebration, UVP had a tech rehearsal for the performance on Friday, May 23, 2025.
