			DeLlora Ellis-Gant	The Los Angeles County African American Employees Association proudly supports the motion to proclaim August 2025 as National Breast/Chestfeeding Month, and the various weeks. We recognize the critical importance of equitable access to lactation support, culturally competent education, and community advocacy surrounding breast and chest feeding. This proclamation affirms the County's commitment to maternal and infant health. It also aligns with LACAAEA's mission to promote the health, well-being, and empowerment of African American employees, their families and the County family. We will ensure that our members are made aware of this proclamation, and will share the message across our social media platforms. We thank the Board for elevating this important issue and inviting continued collaboration to support inclusive and family-center initiative across the County family.
		Oppose	Aaron Davalos	This proclamation—and others like it—comes with real costs. These include printed materials, media distribution, and the time of city employees across departments. While there might not be a dedicated budget line for these actions, they still require resources that could be better used elsewhere. Given the recent discussions about cuts to parks and recreation at last month's meeting, I believe any discretionary spending for this proclamation should be redirected to preserving community services that directly benefit residents. Really appreciate ever ones time.
