27.		Favor	Kelly S McNeill	LA Waterkeeper enthusiastically supports the loan application for Rory M Shaw Wetlands Park. Not only has this project been promised to communities and in the works for years, but it would serve as a leading example of how to maximize water supply, water quality, and flooding benefits within a highly urbanized area while integrating community-specific needs for green space and park amenities. Expanding projects like Rory M. Shaw throughout the LA River watershed will help achieve our regional goals for climate resilience, water security, habitat restoration and conservation, and recreational park expansion. It can be an exemplar of integrating natural values into urban life. The project has already undergone extensive planning and environmental review under California law, which has led to some project redesign and increased costs. While project construction is close to proceeding, outstanding funding gaps present the largest hurdle to overcome.
