14.		Favor	Megan Emme	The Domestic Violence & Homeless Services Coalition envisions a world where no individual or family must choose between stable housing and a life free from violence. We are in strong support of this motion and additionally recommend that it includes trends for survivors experiencing homelessness. Since 2018, the % of people who fall into homelessness due to fleeing DV has doubled. Those with DV experience now represent nearly half of the homeless population, up from a third just 8 years ago. Given this, it is imperative to better understand these trends, and gaps in resources that may be driving them. Additionally, it is critical that all LA County Continuums of Care use consistent methodology to count and report survivors, so we can better understand rising trends across LA County. This is especially important given that it is not a federal requirement to count survivors, and this information can sometimes be reported inconsistently. We believe these inclusions will help LA County better target interventions that can reverse current trends and prevent survivors from falling into homelessness. Thank you.

SCENARIO

You are a Community Point of Contact (CPC) officer with The Next 5,000. Four members arrive today at a recycling center. You have immediate and near-term housing options, recycling-program funds, and a network of resources. Your job is to follow the doctrine, use Royal Math, keep choices permanent, and support each member through the After Referral program.

YOUR TASKS

1. Make initial contact with all four members.
2. Offer the appropriate first referrals (housing, food, transportation, ID help, etc.).
3. Follow CPC doctrine:
   - Each CPC officer can use recycling-program funds (up to $20 per receipt for Match the Receipt).
   - Use your resource network if you don't have a benefit (e.g., contact other CPC officers or partner resources).
   - Offer two mandated Royal Math outcomes/interventions as needed.
   - Keep all members in the continuous After Referral program until they choose and reach a permanent placement.
4. Decide the best immediate and near-term actions for each member.
5. Explain your reasoning using Royal Math and the operating doctrine.
6. Note any follow-up actions, referrals, or network contacts needed.

MEMBER A — Single adult male, 42

- Has a recycling receipt for $14.
- Ready to accept an available unit today (Unit A).
- Needs a bus pass and help moving belongings.
- Wants to keep working the recycling program.

MEMBER B — Single adult female, 34

- Has a recycling receipt for $8.
- Wants a unit but prefers to wait for Unit B (available in 3 weeks).
- Needs food support now.
- Needs help with identification paperwork.
- Asks about transportation.

MEMBER C — Family of 3 (adult male, adult female, child age 7)

- No recycling receipt today.
- Needs a family unit.
- Unsure about current offers (concerns about location and size).
- Child needs school enrollment.
- Needs immediate food and transportation help.

MEMBER D — Elderly female, 68

- Has a recycling receipt for $20.
- Wants a unit but is concerned about safety and medical access.
- Needs help with transportation to a medical appointment.
- Prefers a ground-floor or accessible unit.

AVAILABLE RESOURCES (TODAY)

- Unit A: single unit, available now
- Unit B: single unit, available in 3 weeks
- Family unit: available in 2 weeks
- Bus passes (limited supply)
- Food referrals (multiple partners)
- ID assistance (partner agency)
- Medical appointment transportation (partner network)
- Match the Receipt funds (up to $20 per receipt)
- Other CPC officers (resource network)

ROYAL MATH GUIDANCE

- REAL numbers first (receipts, dates, units, funds).
- One member can refuse an offer; after the second mandated intervention, a further refusal is taken as a REAL number and you move on.
- Use time variables to educate members on future options.
- Keep choices permanent, not temporary.
- Use the continuous After Referral program.
- Document all referrals and follow-up (30 and 90 days).
- Coordinate with other CPC officers and partner resources.
- Apply Civil Rights, fairness, and first-come, first-served within the doctrine.

YOUR DELIVERABLE

For each member (A, B, C, D) provide:

- Initial referrals you will offer now.
- Whether you will offer housing today or a future option.
- Use of Match the Receipt funds (amount).
- Other supports (food, transportation, ID help, medical, etc.).
- How you will use the two mandated interventions (if needed).
- Follow-up plan in the After Referral program.
- Explanation using Royal Math and the doctrine.

EVALUATION RUBRIC (100 POINTS)

Use of doctrine and policy	20
Correct use of resources (funds, network)	20
Member-centered and lawful decisions	20
Clear Royal Math reasoning	20
Follow-up and After Referral plan	20

TRAINING GOALS

- ☐ Help each member move closer to a permanent placement.
- ☐ Use all available resources and your network.
- ☐ Apply Royal Math, the doctrine, and Civil Rights.
- ☐ Keep the After Referral program continuous.

MISSION SUCCESS

All members are supported, their rights are respected, and the path to permanent housing is clear.
