Protecting Small Businesses and Strengthening Economic Resiliency in Los Angeles County

On June 17, 2025, a motion was approved by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors. The motion was in direct response to the Trump administration’s mass immigration enforcement that saw people taken from their workplaces resulting in business owners losing staff, loss of foot traffic at brick-and-mortar businesses, and revenue loss. The motion, which was titled “Responding to Workforce and Economic Impact of Federal Immigration Enforcement in Los Angeles County,” directed departments to produce an economic impact report to understand the effect of the immigration raids on the local economy; create a toolkit for business owners and workers to help understand their legal rights; and launch a Small Business Resiliency Fund for direct financial relief to those facing immediate and stark revenue loss.

With 3.5 million residents in Los Angeles County being immigrants, political action that negatively impacts immigrants will have broad impact. The economic impact report, commissioned by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors with the LA County Department of Economic Opportunity (DEO) and whose data collection and analysis were led by the Los Angeles Economic Development Corporation (LAEDC) and the Los Angeles Economic Equity Accelerator (LEEAF), found that of the 311 small businesses who took a survey administered online, nearly 60% were concerned about their ability to maintain their current workforce in the coming months. Among those surveyed, 44% reported revenue loss exceeding 50%. The impact of the immigration raids is not only short-term but long-lasting, particularly for smaller businesses that lack the means to recoup costs and will continue to face deficits due to the fear inflamed by federal immigration enforcement tactics. The report found that the climate of fear led to reduced consumer activity, with customers avoiding public spaces. The report provides recommendations such as creating flexible loan and grant programs for businesses and coordinated communication delivery of timely information and resources to businesses. These recommendations serve as a foundation in preparation for response to future broad disruptions and disasters leading to local economic impact.

I, THEREFORE, MOVE that the Board of Supervisors direct the:

1. Los Angeles County Department of Economic Opportunity (DEO), in consultation with Department of Consumer and Business Affairs (DCBA), and all other applicable departments, to:
 - a. Propose a framework, implementation plan, and necessary resources to establish and operate a permanent business interruption fund or grant program focused on providing funds to small businesses impacted by disasters.

- b. Propose a framework, implementation plan, and necessary resources to establish a flexible, low-interest loan program for small businesses that will be heavily promoted to the most impacted communities as identified in the final Economic Impact Report and geared towards disaster recovery.
- c. Ensure both the grant and loan programs are paired with culturally competent, multilingual technical assistance designed to:
 - i. Offer small business assistance with loan application packaging for public and private loan programs
 - ii. Increase financial literacy and small business readiness for accessing capital
- d. Conduct an evaluation of eligibility requirements across County-supported disaster funding programs to identify opportunities to:
 - i. Establish baseline standardization where appropriate
 - ii. Reduce unnecessary barriers to entry
 - iii. Promote accessibility for all businesses, including microbusinesses, immigrant-owned businesses, and those operating in the informal or cash-based economy
- e. Propose a definition for economic disaster for both sub-directives a and b, which will be minimally defined as:

DYD Workforce Development PROGRAMS

LA County Department of Youth Development

Danielle Vappie
Chief Deputy Director

HISTORY OF DYD & YJR

MISSION

DYD's mission is to be a catalyst for transformation by providing innovative pathways to youth development through intersectional, anti-racist, youth-centered strategies so that all young people can access resources that nurture their growth, well-being, and connection to community.

VISION

We envision a flourishing youth development ecosystem that builds safer communities and eliminates youth incarceration by ensuring young people have the tools they need to thrive.

COMMON MISCONCEPTIONS

Does DYD only serve justice involved youth?

DYD serves all youth but prioritizes equity by leading with those who are farthest from our universal goal (i.e., under-resourced, disconnected, system-involved).

Is DYD duplicating the work others are already doing?

No! DYD complements the work our partners do and fills gaps in equitable access to supportive services for young people.

Does Diversion hold youth less accountable than arrest?

Because Diversion integrates restorative practices, it is more likely to build accountability and reduce recidivism than arrest or incarceration.

Does Diversion only work for lower-level alleged offenses?

Evidence shows that Diversion is most effective for youth with more serious alleged offenses.
