The County of Los Angeles is supportive of employees who require leaves of absence due to illness or to provide care for qualifying family members. The benefits covered under the FMLA, CFRA, and PDL provide employees with job security, and maintenance of health care insurance, while balancing family responsibilities. This guide provides information about each entitlement.

ENTITLEMENTS

FMLA is a federal law that permits employees to take up to a maximum of 12 workweeks (or 26 for military caregiver leave) of unpaid leave during a 12-month period for qualifying leave reasons. FMLA runs concurrently with CFRA if the employee meets the requirements for both benefits.

CFRA is a California law that permits employees to take up to a maximum of 12 workweeks of unpaid leave during a 12-month period for qualifying leave reasons. CFRA runs concurrently with FMLA if the employee meets the requirements for both benefits.

PDL is a California law that permits employees to take up to a maximum of 4 months (17.333 workweeks) of unpaid leave for pregnancy-related disability per pregnancy. PDL runs concurrently with FMLA if the employee meets the requirements for both benefits.

Military Caregiver Leave – 26 workweeks of unpaid leave during a 12-month period for an employee who is the spouse, son, daughter, parent or next of kin of a current/veteran covered service member with a serious injury/illness. JOB PROTECTION AND HEALTH BENEFITS

During FMLA, CFRA, and/or PDL leave, an employee's group medical and dental coverage and Health Care Spending Account must be continued on the same basis and under the same conditions as were applicable prior to the leave.

Upon returning from FMLA, CFRA, or PDL, the employee must be reinstated to the same or equivalent position.

CONTINUOUS/INTERMITTENT/REDUCED SCHEDULE LEAVE OR REASONABLE ACCOMMODATION

Employees may take leave on a continuous or intermittent basis, based on a health care provider's medical certification. Continuous leave is an uninterrupted leave of absence, while intermittent leave is taken in separate blocks of time for a single qualifying reason. The frequency and duration of such leave must be specified on the medical certification.

Leave for bonding with a newborn and/or newly placed child under adoption or foster care may be taken continuously, or in increments of two weeks or greater, except for two occasions.

Employees may also take leave on a reduced work schedule, if medically necessary.

Under the Pregnant Workers Fairness Act, employees disabled by pregnancy who require a reasonable accommodation should contact their departmental Disability Management and Compliance section.
