THE COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES

The County of Los Angeles, listed on Forbes' Best Employers of 2016, has a demographically and geographically diverse population of more than 10 million residents. As the largest employer in Southern California, over 108,000 employees in more than 36 departments provide vital and wide ranging public services.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

The County is governed by a five-member Board of Supervisors (Board) who are elected on a non-partisan basis and served four-year staggered terms. As the governing body, the Board serves as both the executive and legislative authority of the largest and most complex county government in the United States. The Board directs the work of the County through 33 appointed department heads that report directly to the Board. In addition to the appointed department heads, the County Assessor, the District Attorney, and the Sheriff are elected by the people.

Commissions are established to help the Board deal with the many and varied duties and responsibilities of local county government. Today there are 172 commissions, committees, task forces, and special district agency boards. These are created by State or Federal law, County ordinance or by action of the Board of Supervisors. The Board relies on these groups to advise it on a wide range of issues affecting its constituencies, and to assure that these bodies are responsive to community inputs and concerns

THE CIVILIAN OVERSIGHT COMMISSION

On January 12, 2016, the Board voted to implement a Civilian Oversight Commission (Commission) with the mission to improve public transparency and accountability with respect to the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department. The Commission shall provide robust opportunities for community engagement, ongoing analysis and oversight of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department policies, practices, and procedures, and act as an advisory body to the Sheriff, the Board, and the public.

The Commission shall be comprised of nine members representing the Board, and providing expertise in such areas as custody, community engagement, juvenile justice, and mental health. The Office of Inspector General and its staff will work closely with the Commission and be accountable for investigations. The Executive Director and Commission staff will assist the Commissioners and the Commission's work in a high level administrative and support role.

THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

The Executive Director of the Civilian Oversight Commission provides expert leadership, administration, and technical support to the Commission, including organizing, planning and coordinating all Commission-related directives, programs, projects, services, and activities.

The Executive Director has particular responsibility to work with the Board, the Inspector General, County Counsel, the Chief Executive Office, and other members of the community in order to staff and provide effective administrative support to the Commission.
