Definitions:

Tier 1-Hospitals are those facilities that currently care for pediatric intensive care, pediatric acute care, neonatal intensive care patients, as well as pediatric trauma patients. These facilities may be requested to take care of the most critically injured children throughout LAC.

Tier 2- Hospitals are those facilities that are medically equipped to care for children including pediatric intensive care, pediatric acute care, and neonatal intensive care patients. These facilities may be requested to take care of the most critically ill children throughout LAC.

Tier 3- Hospitals are adult trauma centers in LAC. These facilities do not have PICU capability but may be able to surgically handle traumatic injuries in children. If a PICU surge is greater than the surge targets for Tier 1 and 2 hospitals, this group of hospitals may be called upon to care for the additional surge of five PICU patients each.

Tier 4-Hospitals provide inpatient pediatric acute care and all but three are EDAP facilities. Non-EDAP facilities are indicated in italics. Tier 4 hospitals may be requested to accept lower acuity patients compared to Tiers 1, 2, and 3.

Tier 5- Hospital includes hospitals that are EDAP, but do not provide inpatient pediatric services. These facilities may be requested to provide inpatient surge capacity for stable patients who are ideally over age eight. The Kaiser Foundation Hospitals (in italics) are non-EDAP facilities but have the capabilities of EDAP facilities.

Tier 6- Hospitals are facilities that are non-EDAP and do not have licensed inpatient pediatric beds. These facilities may be requested to surge for stable patients over eight years of age. Italicized hospitals have NICU capability and may be able to use surge strategies to accommodate patients age two and under 1.

Tier 7- Hospitals are specialty hospitals or facilities without 9-1-1 receiving emergency departments. These facilities may be used for transfer once a patient is stable based on their capabilities.

Undesignated- These hospitals have not been assigned to a Pediatric Surge Plan tier category either because of geographic location or lack of a signed commitment letter by the CEO.
