

BLOG POST · AUGUST 19, 2026

An Idea Born at LA General Becomes a Shared County Vision

Restorative Care Village Marks Another Milestone in Reimagining Behavioral Health

Los Angeles, CA

Media contact: LAGeneralPIO@dhs.lacounty.gov

An idea born at LA General became a shared County vision — and today, we are watching it come to life.

This week, LA General celebrated another milestone in the Restorative Care Village: a first-in-the nation model bringing medical care, behavioral health, recovery services and housing together on one campus. The vision began years ago at LA General, where Dr. Brad Spellberg helped shape the original clinical concept and CEO Jorge Orozco advanced it through years of community engagement. With the leadership of County Board Chair Hilda L. Solis and County and community partners, that vision is now becoming a reality — right here at LA General

96

Bed Psychiatric Subacute Facility

64

Crisis Residential Treatment Beds

296

Affordable & Supportive Homes

The Restorative Care Village turns Exceptional Care. Healthy Communities. from motto into blueprint — an idea that started at LA General and, with the County behind it, is becoming a new national model for behavioral health care.

Watch the recap below.

