Introductions

The African Communities Public Health Coalition (ACPHC) has been contracted by the Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health (LACDMH) to implement the Prevention Works 4 Communities (PW-4-C) initiative. This outreach and education project is designed to enhance awareness and advocacy for mental health services among Black immigrant and African American populations in Los Angeles County.

This report provides a comprehensive evaluation of the project's mental health awareness and advocacy training component and community presentation findings. The goal is to equip LACDMH with culturally responsive prevention strategies tailored to the Pan-African community, ensuring that future mental health programming effectively addresses the specific needs of these populations.

The PW-4-C project encompasses two key objectives:

- 1. Community Needs Assessment Conducting a culturally sensitive survey to assess the mental health needs of diverse Pan-African communities, including Caribbean, Haitian, and other Black immigrant groups across Los Angeles County.
- 2. Culturally Relevant Outreach & Education Promoting LACDMH's mental health services to Pan-African immigrants through tailored, culturally appropriate outreach strategies that foster trust and engagement.

By implementing these strategies, the project aims to build the capacity of mental health service providers to deliver culturally competent care, ensuring both short-term and long-term improvements in access to mental health resources for Pan-African community members. Ultimately, PW-4-C seeks to bridge the gap between underserved Black immigrant populations and essential mental health services, fostering improved emotional well-being and advocacy for mental health within these communities.

Utilizing Toolkits: Community Forums and Webinars for Effective Prevention Programs in Pan-African Communities

As part of our strategic initiative to develop culturally responsive mental health prevention programs for Pan-African communities, we leveraged toolkits, community forums, and webinars to gather critical insights. These platforms served as essential spaces for open dialogue, knowledge-sharing, and collective problem-solving, ensuring that community members had a voice in shaping prevention strategies that authentically reflect their needs, lived experiences, and cultural realities.

In addition to utilizing our survey tool, we encouraged participants to engage in open discussions about the prevalence of mental health stigma, barriers to accessing services, and the systemic challenges that often hinder individuals from seeking support. These conversations provided valuable perspectives that are instrumental in developing more inclusive, effective, and community-centered mental health solution

Our Statement of Work (SOW) was carefully structured to align with the full spectrum of services offered during the initiative. These included direct mental health care referrals, outreach programs, and educational initiatives, all designed to reduce stigma, increase awareness, and improve access to services. A key component of our work focused on addressing systemic barriers such as discrimination, language isolation, stigma, and exclusion, which often prevent individuals in Pan-African communities from seeking mental health support.

Collaborative Efforts to Reduce Stigma and Improve Access to Mental Health Services

Through partnerships with key stakeholders, community leaders, and organizations, we worked to break down barriers to mental health care. A significant highlight of this project was our targeted outreach and advocacy to combat Female Genital Mutilation (FGM), a practice that has long-term physical and psychological effects on young women.

1. FGM Awareness and Training

- We collaborated with the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) to train officials on best practices for identifying and supporting suspected FGM survivors at U.S. ports of entry. This training was critical in ensuring that interviews and interactions with survivors were conducted in a trauma-informed manner, minimizing re-traumatization.
- Additionally, we conducted a virtual training session for the FGM task force National network and the public to raise awareness and equip stakeholders with necessary knowledge and intervention strategies.
- 2. Faith-Based and Community-Centered Mental Health Initiatives
  - We worked with faith-based institutions such as Masjid Salaam, where our programs focused on integrating mental health awareness with family and faith-centered approaches.
  - Collaborations with LA County Libraries and Youth Centers allowed us to provide tailored workshops focused on youth mental health challenges, equipping young people with coping strategies and resources.

3. Educational and Outreach Initiatives

• We conducted specialized workshops in LAUSD Adult Schools and Migrant Education Programs, addressing the unique mental health concerns of African immigrant and African American youth.

Key Achievements: Over 24 Mental Health Outreach and Education Initiatives

Throughout the project, we successfully organized and executed over 24 mental health initiatives that reached over 1680 individuals via community events, training sessions, and outreach activities. These efforts were designed to address the diverse mental health needs of the Pan-African community. The breakdown of these initiatives is as follows:

- 9 In-Person Community Mental Health Outreach Events and Activities
- 7 In-Person Workshops/Trainings for Schools and Youth Centers
- 4 In-Person Workshops for Faith-Based and Community Centers (Masjid Salaam, Libraries, and Community Centers)
- 3 In-Person Workshops for LAUSD Adult Schools & Migrant Education Programs
- 1 Virtual Training for the FGM Task Force and the Public
- 1 In-Person Training for DHS Officials on FGM Awareness

Impact and Future Implementation

The insights gathered from these toolkits, forums, and webinars will be instrumental in refining future mental health prevention strategies. The data will help tailor community education, stigma reduction efforts, early referral systems, and other culturally specific prevention services for the growing population of African American and African immigrant youth and young adults. Our continued efforts will ensure that mental health programming remains accessible, relevant, and impactful for the Pan-African community in Los Angeles County.

Summary of the Prevention Works 4 Community (PW4C) Survey Tool

The Prevention Works 4 Community (PW4C) Survey Tool was designed to assess the current understanding of mental health issues within Black immigrant and African American communities. The survey explored stigmatization, cultural competence, historical trauma, and other social and cultural challenges that affect mental health perceptions and accessibility.

Participant Recruitment and Demographics

Participants were recruited by the President of the African Public Health Communities Coalition and two youth leaders who played an active role in the PW4C project. The survey gathered responses from a diverse group of individuals, including members of African American, Latino, and Black immigrant communities from a wide range of ethnic and national backgrounds.

Participants represented various countries and regions, including:

- African communities: Ethiopian, Egyptian, Eritrean, Sierra Leonean, Liberian, Senegalese, Cameroonian, Nigerian, Sudanese, Chadian, Moroccan, South African, Zimbabwean, Mauritanian
- Caribbean communities: Jamaican, Belizean, Trinidadian, Barbadian, Dominican, Cuban, Haitian
- Other immigrant and diaspora groups: Afghan, Palestinian

Each participant provided insights into their perceptions of mental health, systemic barriers, and recommendations for improving mental health outreach and services in their communities.

Survey questions:

7. What cultural barriers, if any, do you perceive in your community that hinder individuals from seeking mental health treatment?

8. What systemic barriers, such as lack of access or stigma, do you believe exist in your community regarding mental health treatment?

9. How do socioeconomic factors impact access to mental health treatment in your community? Cultural Adaptations and Strategies:

10.In your opinion, what cultural adaptations could be incorporated into existing LA-DMH programming to facilitate easier access to mental health treatment for Pan-African communities? 11.Can you identify any culturally specific strategies that could be implemented to better engage Pan-African communities in mental health services?

12. Are you aware of any mental health services currently available in your community? [] Yes [] No

13.If yes, how satisfied are you with the existing mental health services?
(1 = Not Satisfied, 5 = Very Satisfied)
14.Have you or someone you know ever gets mental health treatment in your community?
[] Yes [] No
15.If yes, what was the experience like?
Additional Comments:
16. Is there anything else you would like to share about mental health services in your community?

Key Findings and Themes

The responses from both adult and youth participants revealed several important themes, which are outlined below:

1. Lack of a Unified Definition of Mental Health

- Participants expressed that mental health is not universally understood or defined within Black immigrant and African American communities.
- Many respondents indicated that mental well-being is often associated with extreme cases of mental illness rather than everyday emotional and psychological health.

2. Limited Discussion of Mental Health Within Families and Communities

- The topic of mental health remains largely unspoken among both youth and adults, often due to cultural taboos, religious beliefs, and stigma.
- Many individuals felt that seeking mental health support is perceived as a weakness or something to be ashamed of.

3. The Role of Historical Trauma, Slavery, and Colonization

- Respondents emphasized that mental health discussions must take into account the historical trauma of slavery, colonialism, and systemic oppression that have impacted Black communities for generations.
- This historical context influences mistrust in healthcare institutions and reluctance to seek professional mental health services.

4. Insufficient Mental Health Services and Youth Programs

- Participants noted that there is a general lack of accessible and culturally competent mental health services for Black youth and adults.
- Youth in particular lack recreational and supportive spaces where they can engage in activities that promote mental well-being.

5. Need for Community-Based Social and Recreational Spaces

- Many respondents suggested that mental health initiatives should be integrated into community spaces where youth naturally gather.
- Suggested activities included group yoga, dance, music, basketball, and other social programs that could incorporate mental health discussions.
- Participants emphasized the need for a safe, non-judgmental space where young people can freely express themselves while also learning mental health coping strategies.

6. Early Mental Health Education and Intervention

- Respondents recognized that mental health awareness should begin at an early age to help break stigma and encourage open conversations.
- A key suggestion was to host neighborhood-wide social events where children and families could gather to discuss mental health in a relaxed setting.

7. Systemic Barriers to Mental Health Access

- Many participants acknowledged that structural and institutional barriers prevent Black individuals from seeking mental health treatment.
- These barriers include high costs, lack of Black or culturally competent therapists, language barriers, and discrimination within the healthcare system.

8. Importance of Culturally Relevant Mental Health Treatment

- Participants highlighted the need for mental health providers who understand the cultural backgrounds, traditions, and lived experiences of Black communities.
- Many respondents felt that being treated by a therapist who shares or respects their cultural identity would make seeking mental health care more comfortable.

9. Recommendations for Mental Health System Reform

- Participants suggested incorporating mental health screenings into routine physical health check-ups to normalize the discussion of mental well-being.
- The current healthcare system was described as intimidating and unwelcoming, with limited time allocated for mental health consultations.
- Respondents advocated for more flexible and patient-centered mental health care models that prioritize trust-building and extended consultation times.

Summary of the PW4C Project

The Prevention Works 4 Community (PW4C) Project, led by the African Coalition, represents a groundbreaking and culturally tailored mental health outreach and advocacy initiative. This program was designed to address the unique mental health needs of African immigrants and African American communities, utilizing qualitative evaluations, community engagement, and targeted training modules to foster greater awareness and access to mental health resources.

Successful Community Engagement and Outreach

The African Coalition demonstrated exceptional success in recruiting both youth and adult participants for the program, ensuring that the outreach was inclusive and representative of diverse voices within the community. The initiative implemented multiple layers of training and advocacy activities, strengthening mental health awareness at both individual and collective levels.

Key elements of the program included:

- Mental health training sessions to educate community members on key mental health concepts, advocacy strategies, and the impact of cultural trauma.
- Community-based presentations and forums, which served as platforms for discussion and learning.
- Outreach efforts aimed at building knowledge around mental health services, support networks, and available resources.

Impact of Mental Health Training and Awareness Modules

The initial training curriculum, which included mental health awareness modules, was rigorously evaluated and found to have significant positive outcomes. Participants demonstrated increased knowledge and awareness of critical mental health topics, including:

- Advocacy and self-empowerment in mental health
- Basic mental health concepts, including recognizing symptoms and seeking support
- Common Mental Health Disorders and its impact on African immigrant and African American communities

These newly acquired skills and knowledge were then applied by trained African Coalition staff during various community events and forums, amplifying the reach of the initiative.

Key Findings from Community Presentations and Surveys

- 100% of participants in community presentations reported enhanced knowledge on mental health and mental health services topics covered during discussions.
- Participants gained greater awareness of where to seek mental health services for themselves or for friends and family members.
- Community-based awareness-building activities proved to be highly effective in educating African immigrants and African Americans about mental health resources, referral networks, and available health services.

The survey evaluation results clearly indicate that this type of culturally tailored advocacy and awareness campaign is highly beneficial for communities in Los Angeles County. Expanding these efforts would likely lead to increased mental health referrals, reduced stigma, and overall improved mental well-being within these populations.

Challenges Faced During the PW4C Project

Despite its success, the project encountered several challenges:

- 1. Scheduling Difficulties Coordinating training activities for mental health advocates and organizing community events posed logistical challenges, particularly in balancing availability across different community groups.
- 2. Limitations in Data Collection Due to event location constraints and timing issues, not all community gatherings allowed for comprehensive survey collection, limiting some aspects of data evaluation.

Conclusion and Future Recommendations

The PW4C Project has demonstrated a highly effective model for community-based mental health advocacy and education. By leveraging cultural relevance, grassroots outreach, and targeted training, the initiative successfully increased awareness and improved access to critical mental health resources.

The PW4C Survey Tool provided valuable insights into the perceptions, challenges, and needs of Black immigrant and African American communities regarding mental health. The findings emphasize the need for:

- More culturally competent mental health services tailored to Black communities
- Sexpanded youth-focused mental health programs integrated into community activities
- Early intervention and education initiatives to foster open discussions about mental health
- Policy advocacy to restructure mental health services and eliminate systemic barriers

By scaling up these initiatives, the African Coalition can continue to reduce stigma, empower communities, and promote lasting mental well-being for African immigrants and African Americans across Los Angeles County.
