Public Comment	Yvonne Sandoval	In Person	General/Stakeholder Report SALT7	Good morning no, I bet it's now noon. Good afternoon, my name is Yvonne Sandoval, and I am with service area seven. I am one of their co-chairs. I'm here to pretty much let you know what's going on, and I want to try and do the under three minutes. So, I'm glad we all showed up this morning. So here goes. We have now of course we're I'm looking at May already, but we already had quite a number of events that we both the chairpersons were able to attend with SALT seven interfaith community. They are fabulous. You should all come out. We have another one with there in nor walk with the temple and I can't wait to get there because they are going to have delicious food, right, you know, I'm going to tell you honestly and sincerely, I had no idea I was just telling Dr. Wong a couple of minutes I had no idea I was going to be doing this kind of work in later years I didn't plan it I just knew I had to say wow there has to be something more than this. My husband was the one that had PTSD and it was really heart breaking and medication was just (indiscernible) but maybe he need that had level of medication so just that. But along this path I continue to meet up with just fabulous people. I started first of all, with my peer certificate with project return. It was with project return that I saw that little flyer at my city of commerce library, and it has never been the same. It has been just, boom. Every step, everywhere I go, if you and anyone those struggled with anyone or experienced anything, we've had a lot of challenges in our lives. But if you take

				all the goods that you have encountered and experienced and whether you write them or not, but if you can remember that almost every morning or before you go to bed just something of that, any of the good stuff, you know it brings you to a higher level, and this this is where I am at personally. But I do want to share maybe a few things. In 16 seconds, you know, NAMI walks is coming up. Get out your notepad, write something down, NAMI walks is going to happen on the 16th of May, at 9 o'clock. There's another individual that I have come to know because of the tabling of events. The last name H A K A A, and you can find him on Instagram. He's another one. Heads all these wonderful things, and he's been to our SALT seven meetings interfaith and just a list of things that I share, and my time is almost up. Give me one more minute. Tomorrow afternoon in the evening I hope anyone of you can make it. We're going to have our east los tacos in person in east LA right off the freeway in the meeting from five to 7:00 p.m. and come and eat the delicious tacos because I've had them over and over again. Thank you.
Public Comment	Pastor Nah	By Phone	Stakeholder Report/SALT4	Hello, this is from pastor Na, let me do the report for SALT four. We had meeting on January 15th, and there was crisis response teams presentation, and also, we had DEA, field agents presentation, related to, you know, training, families, how to handle their children. When they find out their children's drug abuse and how to deal with it, and how to prevent that. And also we had an event on January 21st in state park next to China town. We went there and we were having a seminar related to stress management because

				while I was working outs I realized that it would be great to have this mental health and stress management seminar with the people who are in the park. You know who are using the park. We had stress management session, and while we were doing it, there were a lot of visitors, you know, who are interested in the seminar, and they were able to participate at a seminar, and we ended up being able to do the networking. And so in the future, we could continuously use this opportunity as in order to recruit more members for the SALT meeting, such as five thousand, you know, five thousand or two thousand meter running and working out or running event. That's all, thank you.
Public Comment	Sydney Tabizon	In Person	Stakeholder Report/SALT7	I want to start off with -- oh, I am Sidney. The with SALT seven. And I wanted to start off with this is February to March black history month. And one of the things I want to talk about adding to another one of the events, we will be having an it's calmed the prenatal mood and anxiety disorders that will also be at -- you'll find it on our Los Angeles, L-A-C-D-M-H-S-A seven, which hearsay service area seven on Instagram. That will be on the 17th, which is a Tuesday from eleven to twelve p.m. And that's pretty much all I have to say. Just Happy New Year, everybody, too and, you know, all this, if anybody is new out there, you know this is all about hope, and even though there's many changes, we do not know exactly how it's going to be implemented, but it is for us to engage in families if you have a loved one. Find a way to connect with us. That's all I can say to you. And just be here with us and do what you can and show up where you can. That's how it starts so thank you.

Public Comment	Jessica Mosher	By Phone/TEAMS	Stakeholder Report/Native American/Alaskan UsCC	>> I hope you're all well and happy. My name is Dr. Jessica Mahse and chair for Alaska native USCC as far as the report our -- with strong support from native community. The subcommittee is concerned about the lack of awareness about the distance of these meetings they feel like -- Los Angeles has strongest Native Americans that are biracial in California. The stakeholders would also like to know in what form the capacity building projects will continue? And if there will be any action as a result of our report this? That's another question they had. I want to also echo there is a lot of change happening with BHSA, CalAIM, etcetera, these changes are impacting Indian country with the introduction of bin -- which I heard statewide by the way no successful reimbursement for. Also I was hoping that LA county would be sending a tribal liaison to the DHC, office tribal affairs meeting which is happening February 3rd. If someone that could attend to keep on what policies are changing with Medi-Cal and the Native American community. And that's it.
Public Comment	Mr. Franklin	In Person	General	Thank you for having me here I want to thank you all for the last presentation I appreciate the last time I was here. I'm from the (indiscernible) disorders. Is the name of our organization and one of the programs called check the rhyme we do a program in LA where we teach the youth how their playlists effects their behaviors. And we're doing a fundraiser on March first for this particular event. So we want to just come and bring it to your attention. I don't know

				(indiscernible) here. I always get updates for SALT seven.
Public Comment	Ricardo Kim	In Person	General	>> (Indiscernible) good afternoon, chairman and members of the Mental Health Commission. I'm a LA County stakeholder. First, I want to welcome Commissioner Banks to the commission thank you for your service on this commission. I want to -- I attended the CPT meeting on Tuesday and it was -- the department is doing some great work it is hard and you have reports in front of you so I just want to say thank you to everybody, DPH SAPC DMH coming together over this past year more than a year on bringing this together, and it's phenomenon work a lot of work and a lot of people that care and I'm grateful that we all care about one other, and how much we love our neighbors. I want to thank all the USCC co-chairs and the SALT co-chairs for speaking in reports. This is great stuff. We're finally seeing the leadership of stakeholders groups we know with the events but not only to that they are able to express concerns and needs. And I think, you know, the department wide and part of our larger stakeholders and members of the public it's good to know everything that they are saying. You know, this is a great improvement what I'm seeing. I just want to say that the public comment posting period is starting, so I would hope that the department and the co-chairs of the USCC and the SALTs can get together and maybe start discussing this plan. A lot of it is in depth, some of it is high-level stuff that many people have a hard time understanding and if any questions from stakeholders that are going to the stakeholders groups maybe we can

				get it now. And maybe we can do a sign-up sheet across all the service areas U SCC and SALTs who might be able to attend the April 9th commission meeting, the hearing so we can get list, transportation, get food because we would like more robust, better meeting and better representation than last year as I remember. Lastly on designate 11th I made a public comment in which I said that the county would be hold ago two day references. It's titled the 2026 multicultural conference healing -- approach to mental health. My questions are now posted on the calendar all we see a just a reminder date. How will DMH accommodate members of the public, stakeholders, including unhoused individuals who may want to attend but do not have the means to RSVP how many spaces and how can we get people that would like to go that may not get invite or RSVP because this is myself concluded we are interested in going these conferences are great that DMH does. Once again, thank you all Commissioners thank you very much.
Public Comment	M.C Harris Jr.	In Person	General	All right. Hello, my name is M. C. Harris junior and I am a student at El Camino college and I was thinking maybe we canded get like some resources over in that area like eight. And it's you because sometimes when I'm at park or something like that, I want like some more. A little more stuff like what do are we doing? Like different activities and things that you would like to see happen over there? Okay. Great.

				I live in harbor gateway area so the only place I know would be on Vermont in the little area and it's kind of hidden. All right. Thank you.
Public Comment	Mark	By Phone	General	>> Okay there's San Bernardino, they have now what's called peer run houses. That might be an idea for Department of Mental health and project return to get those going here in Los Angeles. We that's something we can take a look. We talked about at the last oversight and oversight commission meeting. Okay, thank you. That's something to take a look at. The oversight and accountability oversight commission meeting. And (indiscernible) reports at the department including Dr. Wong. That's something you might want to take a look at and maybe get something going. It's called peer run housing and San Bernardino county. Okay. Let's see what we can do to get these going, and I would like to get the dates that we get the dates down for the 17th that is going take place and where it's going to be take place.
Public Comment	Bernice Masher	In Person	Stakeholder Report/CCC	>> Yes, okay, this is Bernice M from the culture competency group and I wanted to start by thank you the Commissioner That you came to the USCC meeting. I don't know if you mentioned in one of the long list of things you did last month but we feel honored and respect that you came to our meeting. And that you all were able to get feedback from some of the members participants and hope continue to build relationship with you and rest of commission, so thank you for that. And I wanted to do a brief report out, Dr. Sandra Chang that can be with us as long as I remember, way back I think

				it's early, I think around 2012 is leaving us and Dr. Adrian a will be take place. So that's congratulations to her, but sad for us, we did otherwise have a very good meeting. I think the bulk was covering the cultural competency behavioral health plan report which she and Christina and Danielle S. from SAPC were there to report out. It was very, very good report. I hope that you can see it. Very good information, so much information I recommend everybody look at full report on the cultural competency unit. It's available there on the page at the bottom. So, yeah, we didn't have as much time to get into the some of the comments in our group. So other than that, we'll be continuing to discuss some of the different calendar events we had in the field who used to be a chair -- co-chair in the black African Heritage called African and African-American USCC. Lots of change. She has her own health -- her whole organizations now. She started back then with the black mental health task force is now doing play therapy and she talked about art and how art can be used for health in the arts because we were recognizing that it was both an international day and month for black women in the arts plus it's African-American black lift month. So I love all these interconnections we have some others go way back, and I'm looking forward to continuing connection with all of you. So that's my brief report because there was more that happened but that's my brief report for today and thank you for letting me on. I was on earlier so no connection and I was worried I had missed something so thank you.

Public Comment	Steve McNally	In Person	By Phone	>> Okay, thank you. My name is Steve McNally. I'm a family member. I have a son with schizophrenia and I reside in residing county and I appreciate how easy it is to attend your meetings. First, I'm sort of in and out because of the teams. On AB 96, this is a bill that I was very interested in when it was first launched and that was because satisfied peers were going to be considered community health workers which allow them to bill health care now the bill is gutted to -- the education requirement of which we have nine thousand peers satisfied in the state with the current requirement. So I'm a little concerned that peers aren't going to get be employable. It's not clear what the county plans are for peers in the workforce. How many actually included in the BHSA plan, and so that's one thing. Second thing is I want to appreciate that I understand the county Drexler retired and I always found her to be very helpful in different meeting this I have been in conservatorship that have recent NAMI meeting that she helped participate in. As far as prevention dollars CBHA, one of the state advocacy groups at -- asked that department public health look at not allocating so much money to statewide campaigns but return the money to the counties because the non-profits are hurting. I mentioned on a call that we do not know who asks what because the public comment like when they are presented unless they are shared by the organizations, HHS or Department of Health care services doesn't really share what the point of views are.

				Unless you attend a meeting you can't find that out --- CBH, five seconds here -- Orange County, Riverside, LA, and San Bernadino, represent 45% of the state so you might get statewide prevention money that way because it's one (indiscernible) market and the last thing on new BHSA plans my understanding the department health care service this allow any unspent money to be spent any way you want and I think LA sits on a lot of unspent money as to do counties and I think that's something to make sure you watch over as other counties will be doing too. Thank you for -- I appreciate you allowing me to speak. Thank you.
