Preface

About the System Resource Maps

Los Angeles County's homeless services system includes a broad and evolving network of programs, resources, and referral pathways. While this range of assistance is essential, the complexity of the system can make it difficult for people experiencing or at risk of homelessness, service providers, community partners, local governments, and system leaders to understand what resources are available, who they are intended to serve, and how people access them.

These System Resource Maps were developed to provide a clearer, more transparent picture of the homeless services and housing resources available across Los Angeles County. HSH System Resource Maps are designed to assist people and organizations who work to assist people experiencing homelessness understand how to navigate the people they serve to resources to assist them. These maps are not designed to be distributed to people who are seeking help for themselves. People seeking help for themselves can be directed to www.homeless.lacounty.gov and the Los Angeles Homeless Outreach Portal.

Separate maps have been created for adults, families with children, and youth and young adults to reflect the different resources, eligibility requirements, and pathways that may apply to each population.

The maps are intended to:

- Improve clarity about programs and resources available throughout the County;
- Make eligibility requirements, referral pathways, and matching processes more transparent;
- Help public service providers, public systems and communities identify possible resources for the people they serve;
- Support system navigation, coordination, and more informed referrals; and
- Provide a shared reference point for identifying gaps, areas of duplication, and opportunities to strengthen connections across the system.

For each program or resource, the maps are designed to answer several practical questions: What is the resource? Who is eligible? How is it accessed or how are referrals made? Who makes matching or prioritization decisions? What services are provided?

The maps organize resources across five interconnected areas of the system:

- Connect — How people connect to the homeless services system, receive initial support, and are linked to available resources.
- Interim Housing — Temporary housing and shelter options available while individuals and families work toward greater stability or permanent housing.
- Permanent Housing — Longer-term housing resources, including rental subsidies, supportive housing, and other permanent housing assistance.
- Prevention — Resources intended to help individuals and families avoid homelessness or the loss of their current housing.
- Stabilize — Services and supports that help people address financial, health, behavioral health, employment, benefits, and other needs that may affect their ability to obtain or maintain housing.

The maps should be viewed as system resource guides rather than linear pathways. A person may enter the system through multiple points, receive services from more than one area at the same time, move between resources, or return to an earlier stage as their circumstances change. Inclusion of a resource on a map does not guarantee eligibility, availability, referral acceptance, or placement. Program capacity, funding, eligibility requirements, and referral processes may also vary by location or change over time.

These maps represent a point-in-time view of available resources and will continue to be refined and updated as programs, capacity, policies, funding, and access processes change.

How People Move Through the Homeless Services System

A high-level roadmap across the five areas of the system

Applies across single adults, families with children, and youth/young adults

What is Domestic Violence?

Domestic violence is a pattern of incidents or behavior in any relationship that is used to gain power over someone. Understanding how abuse occurs can help you respond safely to situations. Below are some ways to identify different types of abuse.

Physical Abuse: Have you been hit, pushed, slapped, burned, threatened with a weapon or object to hit you?

Sexual Abuse: Have you been forced to have sex or do things against your will?

Financial Abuse: Were you discouraged from getting a job, not given money or your personal things taken away from you?

Emotional Abuse: Were you embarrassed in front of others? Not letting you see your family or friends; or locked in the house?

Abuse Due to Immigration Status: Were you threatened with deportation or denied access to information about your rights?

If you answered "YES" to any of these questions, you may be a victim of Domestic Violence.

What Proof Do I Need?

Your statement is proof to show abuse. You do not need police reports or other documents. Everything you tell us will be kept confidential to the extent applicable by law.
