To Whom It May Concern,

I just want to say that putting violent adult offenders in a location that will not be a high security facility is using very poor judgment.

How anyone can think this is a good idea is beyond me! Where is common sense?? You are asking for trouble.

That is a catastrophe waiting to happen. These are high risk violent offenders who often escape into the communities they reside in and commit more violent crime.

Not to mention when there are fire evacuations, there will not be time enough for buses and proper evacuation protocols and procedures.

What where you all thinking?? Please do not place these violent individuals anywhere near our schools or so close to our neighborhood.

Signed,

Diana Limon
